Trustees to be well paid for seminar attendance

Trustees of the St. Albert Board of Education (St. Albert Protestant) will receive a hefty expense allowance for meetings attended on District business.

Travelling to a seminar outside of a 50 kilometer radius of St. Albert will mean $180 per day plus registration, accommodation and travelling expenses to each trustee attending. Meetings taking place within 50 kilometers of this city will be worth $30 less.

The expenses hike came in the form of an amendment by Gary Hodgins to a motion by Scott Friese that called for an increase in Trustee honoraria from $3600 to $3866. Previously trustees were paid $150 and $130 respectively for these 'extracurricular' meetings. Last June a pay hike brought Trustees honoraria from $1,760 to $3,600 annually.

Speaking to his amendment Trustee Hodgins said he would like to see this Board encourage trustee participation in various meetings without being too much out of pocket. He added that trustees attending meetings (such as Alberta School Trustee Association seminars) gain knowledge which in turn is valuable to the Board and the district.

Trustee Friese agreed that encouragement to attend seminars was a good idea and backed Mr. Hodgins as did Trustee Ernie Wynychuk. Please Turn to Page 4A

MPC, planners at work on new land use bylaw

The city's planning department has been the scene of some intense activity in recent days. Members of the department and the Municipal Planning Commission have had their heads together for sometime for the purpose of drafting a Land Use Bylaw for the city. The bylaw will dictate the patterns of growth and development here for some years to come.

The Land Use Bylaw is a legal requirement set out in the new Planning Act of April, 1978. The new bylaw will take the place of the existing Zoning Bylaw and Development Control Bylaw. It is anticipated the new legislation will combine the best aspects of both, while reducing the rigidity of the Zoning bylaw and the overly flexible aspects of the Development Control Bylaw. St. Albert officials have decided to re-write the entire bylaw, rather than making just titular changes, as some municipalities are doing.

Although this processing of the new legislation is required in the Planning Act, MPC Chairman Barry Breadner comments that a review of these bylaws would have been necessary in any case, as the current zoning bylaw was drawn up eight years ago. During that time, the city has evolved a General Plan which supports the open space development concept. The authors of the land use bylaw say the legislation will reflect this philosophy.

TERMINOLOGY CHANGES

The terminology of planning is somewhat bewildering and changeable. Under the new planning act, "zoning" becomes "land use," "development control" becomes "direct control,"

"design briefs" become "area structure plans." But the changes to the Act are not merely cosmetic. It reflects the province's burgeoning growth and that of the municipalities within it. It provides for a greater diversity in residential, industrial and commercial development, as well as diversity of densities. As St. Albert's population was a mere 10,000 when the current bylaw was written, Please Turn to Page 5

Teachers sign two year pact

The vote was close but teachers employed by the St. Albert Board of Education opted to accept a new two year contract which gives them a 7.8 percent wage increase in the first year and 7.65 percent in 1980. The School District will also chip in 85 percent of teacher Alberta Health Care costs. The 1978 contract called for a 75 percent sharing by the District.

Two factors weighed heavily in the narrow margin (56 percent in favour). Many teachers were against signing a two year contract and administrators felt that allowances could have received a more hefty increase.

John Osgood, the teacher representative at the bargaining table, said a survey of allowances had been taken on 13 comparable districts in the province and results showed St. Albert 13th. The latest increase (nine percent in the first year and over seven percent in the second) will keep them on par with Edmonton Public but about 10 percent behind Edmonton Separate. Most of the 13 Districts surveyed will also remain higher.

Board Negotiations Chairman Gary Hodgins told the Gazette the Board would likely approve the agreement which costs out to just over eight percent when all fringe benefits are taken into account.

Local Liberals to choose candidate

St. Albert Liberals should have a candidate for the upcoming provincial election after an Open Convention to be held tonight. Local Grits will meet this evening at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of selecting their representative in the race for the St. Albert seat.

Past President of the Liberal Association, Dick Wheatley told the Gazette that Gerry Thibeault of St. Albert has stated his intention of seeking the nomination. Mr. Thibeault is 32 years old, single and owns his own business in Edmonton. He moved to Alberta from Saskatchewan and has been a resident of St. Albert for the past year.

Gerry Dux wins Chamber accolade

The fact that civic spirit is alive and well in St. Albert was obvious last Saturday night as a crowd of over 200 people gathered at the Club Mocambo. The occasion was the 11th annual Citizen of the Year banquet, held by the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce. When the last speech was heard and the decision announced, minor hockey organizer Gerry Dux emerged with the accolade.

Presiding over the festivities was broadcaster Bob Arnold, who introduced head table guests and other guests. Few were exempt from Mr. Arnold's darts and salvos, which stung some and convulsed others. Seated at the head table were Doreen Robinson, chairman of the Chamber's Citizen of the Year committee, and husband Eric Robinson; Walter Dingle, president of the Alberta Chambers of Commerce, and wife Mabel;

Mayor Ron Harvey, Therien Bennett, new president of the St. Albert Chamber of

Citizen of the Year keeps hectic schedule

Gerry Dux, St. Albert's newest Citizen of the Year, is no stranger to this area as he was born in Edmonton, and educated in Ardrossan. After graduation he began to work for the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, receiving positions throughout Alberta including a period with the Flying Bank that took him into the Northwest Territories. Gerry, his wife Catherine and children Cassandra and Christopher moved to St. Albert in 1974. Gerry became manager of the St. Albert branch bank, and immediately became involved in both business and community.

Working through the Kinsmen Club, he became heavily involved in all aspects of Minor Hockey, to which he gave unstintingly of his time. His first responsibility was the onerous task of scheduling games and ice time to accommodate the needs of all the participating divisions. This was no easy job and one that no one was anxious to assume. The understanding Gerry had for the youngsters marked him as a natural leader in the Please Turn to Page 2A mieux, outgoing president of the local Chamber, and his wife Dorita; Pauline Vaugois, last year's Citizen of the Year and Albert Tardiff and Mrs. Bob Arnold.

Mr. Arnold also paid tribute to the late Dr. Bill Cuts, a former honoree, and saluted Mrs. Cuts as well as former winners Lorraine Moore, Father Ubald Duchesneau, Ed Savoie, Bertha Kennedy and Hettie Blades, all of whom were in attendance.

On behalf of the Alberta Chambers of Commerce, Mr. Walter Dingle of Calgary took the podium to address the gathering, responding to Mr. Arnold's Calgary quips by remarking that too much needling on the subject of his home town might result in his being unable to help the St. Albert group. He stated that the work of the Chamber here in St. Albert was illustrative of the fact that the Chamber works for citizens as well as business.

Mayor Ron Harvey expressed his pride at being present to honour this year's winner and said he hoped that the Chamber's membership would increase after the banquet. Past President Roger Lemieux spoke of the Chamber as a "vibrant voice in the community" and spoke of the rapid growth in membership it has enjoyed. After extending thanks to those who made his term as president a productive one, he introduced Therien Bennett, incoming president. Mr. Bennett said the Chamber was a body in which people worked together to make the community a better place to live, work and raise their children by promoting a healthy business climate and orderly urban development. The new slate of Chamber executives were then introduced.

As the big moment for the announcement drew near, Doreen Robinson informed the attentive crowd that this year the Chamber has commissioned a plaque to be made bearing an engraved picture and the name of each year's Citizen of the Year. She held up the plaque, showing that the picture for this year's winner was covered, and with a flourish, unveiled the winner's identity.

"And the Citizen of the Year is Gerry Dux!", she declared, to an enthusiastic round of applause.

The newest winner of the citizenship award recovered from his surprise and commented "I don't believe it!" He stated he liked working with the midget and juvenile hockey players who had not had a place to play in the past. He was presented with a guest book from the evening and several gifts, including a gift certificate from Sweetheart Jewellery, a gift certificate from LBH Home Improvements and a Vic Post photograph from Dick Fowler.

estimated that during the Minor Hockey season, his service work averages four hours a day, seven days a week.

Not satisfied with his total involvement in hockey, Gerry found time in 1978 to look after the ice time and manpower arrangements for the Club's major fund raiser for Cystic Fibrosis, the Kinsmen Skate-a-thon which as a result was a huge success.

Gerry made a further contribution through his assistance to the Kinsmen Rodeo project, and in the past year was parade chairman.

He became a Beaver Pack leader in 1978 and is also involved in T-ball, programs which are concerned with recreational needs of pre-schoolers and pre-cub age groups.

Congratulations to Mr. Gerry Dux, a very worthy Citizen of the Year.

Name change official

Some of the confusion residents (particularly new residents) experience in identifying the St. Albert School District they would like to send their children to or support with their taxes may be alleviated with a name change. At least, that is in part the intention of the Protestant School District. A motion by Trustee Gary Hodgins to rename the Protestant Separate School District #6 the St. Albert Board of Education was unanimously (Trustee Shirley McCaffery was absent) supported by other Board members at Wednesday's meeting.

Trustee Scott Friese asked other trustees if they should submit a second choice to Alberta Education (the Provincial Government must approve the name). He said that he had "a couple of comments" from separate sources indicating that the new name change would be as confusing (with the other Board) as the original.

Other members, however, felt that Trustee Hodgins' choice was adequate and stuck with it. Trustee Hodgins pointed out that legally the District would remain the Separate Board and the Catholic District the Public Board. In this unchangeable fact lies the basis for the confusion. Catholic school districts in English Canada almost always carry the label of Separate School District while the Protestant religions are represented by Public School Districts. Because of St. Albert's French-Catholic roots the Public school system, the first one in place, was also the Catholic school system.

As the 'Separate District' in St. Albert now accommodated students from many religions which cannot be labelled Protestant (or Catholic) the trustees felt the new name would more accurately represent all concerned. It remains to be seen whether the identification problem has been resolved.

Tourist Association gaining momentum

Those attending the recent monthly meeting of the Midnight Twilight Tourist Association were happy to hear membership roles are continuing to grow at a good rate. Recent key members are the City of St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon. It is expected that the MD of Smoky will soon join the relatively new Zone which was created upon the splitting of the oversized Zone 8.

PHOTO CONTEST

MTTA Photo Contest Chairman Hal Harrison reported that the contest is going well with people gathering their entries to submit before closing time late this year. Photographers who are planning to enter are reminded that time is running out for winter scenes of which to date there appears to be a shortage. Entry forms may be picked up at the Tourist Information Booth on the corner of Sturgeon Road and the St. Albert Trail.

The MTTA Visitors Guide has reached the proof form and was circulated at the meeting. The colorful 32 page booklet should be ready for distribution near the end of February. A pamphlet describing several detailed side trips will also be rolling off the presses in time for circulation during the heavy traffic months of summer.

CAVALCADE

An in-zone cavalcade is in the works for June 1, 2 and 3. It will be the in-zone cavalcade in Zone 14 but other zones have met with success in their ventures.

The starting point will be Westlock and travellers will loop through Athabasca, Slave Lake, Swan Hills and terminate in Barrhead. A fish fry at Slave Lake and a barbecue at Barrhead are planned.

Correction

Catholic Board Notes

Trustees will soon be dealing with student housing, staffing, and the 1979-80 school year. At least two of these proved very contentious last year with anxious parents jamming meetings to air concerns over where their children would be attending and what class sizes they would be faced with.

Preliminary reports have been drawn up on housing and staffing and will now go through a process of study by principals and the Board's Policy Committee before surfacing once more for public viewing.

The school year will come before the Board, February 5th.

Mishap claims St. Albert woman

An 18 year old St. Albert woman was killed as a result of a highway mishap near Red Deer Saturday afternoon.

Brigitte Mary Chelkowski died in Red Deer General Hospital after her car slid sideways on an icy patch and struck the rear end of a tractor trailer unit. The unit was parked on the shoulder of Highway #2, about 16 kilometers north of Red Deer.

Ms. Chelkowski was pinned in the car, and had to be removed from the vehicle by the Red Deer Fire Department. A passing doctor administered treatment at the scene, before Ms. Chelkowski was rushed to hospital by ambulance. She died later that night.

According to the Red Deer RCMP, poor road conditions were a contributing factor in the mishap.

A passenger in the vehicle, 16 year old Diane Chelkowski, was also taken to the Red Deer General Hospital. Her condition is unavailable.

CURE BY CURFEW?

In light of the Great Curfew Debate currently raging in Edmonton, we give you the following scenario.

After a gruelling day at the Little Red School House, Johnny Doe furtively telephones his diminutive partner-in-crime, little Manny Schmo.

"Hey Manny, is it still on for tonight?" he whispers, voice quivering with anticipation.

"Yeah," says little Manny evilly. "We meet at the gym at 10 p.m. Bring your hatchet, the kerosene and the matches. I'll have a tire iron and Freddy's got his old man's sledgehammer. I figger we can put the Old Alma Mater outta commission inside of an hour!"

Pause. "Oh, no!" exclaims Johnny suddenly. "Holy hacksaws! I've just remembered, city council has just enacted a 10 p.m. curfew. There's no way we can destroy the school tonight. We would have to be out after 10 - and that would be breaking the law!"

"Ah shucks," moans Manny. "You're right. I guess I'll have to stay home nights and leave the vandalism until I grow up. Isn't it neat that city council has saved us from ourselves!"

Ludicrous - of course. But apart from the hyperbole, this is precisely the line of reasoning being taken in Edmonton: the curfew as crime fighter. Ha! Any adolescent with enough hostility to vandalize a school or commit other serious crimes will certainly find a curfew no obstacle. From a purely practical point of view, such a law would be senseless.

From a moral point of view, the curfew idea is downright dangerous. It is one more instance of government usurping the role of the private citizen. Such details of child rearing are a purely parental responsibility and the insinuation of government into this realm undermines the already waning strength of the family. What will be next? A city bylaw making the consumption of brussel sprouts mandatory before departure from the dinner table? When carried to its limits, this line of thinking could end in the expropriation of the parental role by the state. Those who surrender their responsibilities also surrender their rights.

The timing of the curfew proposal is ironic. The United Nations has designated 1979 "The Year of the Child," and the rights of children are receiving worldwide attention. To suggest legislation that openly discriminates against children demonstrates a peculiar ignorance of world opinion and current social issues.

It is to be hoped that the Edmonton council will give their collective head a shake and quietly scrap the curfew idea, rejecting the whole thing as a moral and political gaffe. Should the idea ever surface in St. Albert, we hope it too would be vigorously quashed.

ROYAL ENTRANCE

Tradition and pageantry are a necessary part of any Robbie Burns' Day celebration and the second annual Legion Robbie Burns' supper was no exception. The Hagis, on the platter over chef Dave Beswick's head was piped to the head table by Darren McEachern.

Trustees well paid

Continued From Page A 1 and Wes Penner in a unanimous vote (Trustee Shirley McCaffery was absent) to accept the amendment.

Trustee Wynchuk in speaking to Trustee Friese's motion to increase the honoraria asked whether the Board should follow the example of the city and form a citizens committee to make recommendations on any increase in honoraria. Trustee Friese said he hadn't thought about it but now that he did he didn't feel it would be necessary. He said that each of the trustees was aware of the major adjustment made last year (above) to "realign" and that he didn't want to have the honoraria fall out of line again making another realignment necessary sometime down the road.

Trustees in the Catholic

School District and Sturgeon School Division receive somewhat less of a per diem allowance. Catholic district trustees receive $100 per day plus travelling, meals, lodging and registration expenses while Sturgeon division trustees get $90 plus 24¢ per mile. They pay their own lodging and meal expenses out of the $90 plus any additional travelling expenses over 24¢ per mile.

The Catholic district has set the above fee until review in 1981. Sturgeon Board Chairman Lois Hole says trustees have not discussed any increases but that decisions would be made during budget talks in the near future.

Superintendent Elmer Gish of the St. Albert Board of Education said that there are an average of four or five conferences per year. These would average about two days each and most take place on weekdays. Mr. Gish said trustees "should not be out of pocket through loss of pay when doing the job of a trustee. The public organization for which you (the trustee) works should pay the costs, not the employer."

Playwright Arthur Miller: "It used to be that the adolescent couldn't wait to grow up; now the grownups try to act and sound like adolescents. What happened is that both collided in the middle going in opposite directions."

'Robbie Burns' memory properly feted

One hundred and fifty faithfuls gathered at the St. Albert Legion Friday evening to celebrate the birthday of Scotland's National Poet, Robbie Burns.

The second annual St. Albert Robbie Burns night began with the traditional 'piping in' of the head table guests. Once MC Vern Tompkins had introduced the head table and Legion President Len Jones had welcomed everyone to the hall, piper Darren McEachern led a kilted Dave Beswick from the kitchen bearing a platter over his head on which rested that most famous of Scottish dishes - the Hagis.

Jim Little rose and followed his address to the Hagis by calling for a toast. Guest speaker Alistair Mitchell was called upon to speak to the Immortal Memory of Robbie Burns.

The Cheryl Walters School of Dancing delighted all in attendance with an excellent display of highland dancing and long-time Branch member Cec Abrams played drums accompanied by Tom Ferguson on accordion. Everyone danced long into the night to the sounds of the Stuarts.

P.S. - Everyone appreciated seeing the entire Beswick staff decked out in kilts but an anonymous soul laughingly suggested Dave would have looked much cuter with shaven legs.

Tudor Singers need male voices

Need something "to knot the ravelled sleeve of care?" Renaissance music may be just the thing to distract you from 20th century hassles. The Tudor Singers of St. Albert are looking for members to sing in their choir. Choir Director Chris Massey says there is a real need for men, both tenor and bass, but especially the latter.

The Tudor Singers choose their material primarily from the Renaissance period (1500 - 1700), concentrating on such forms as the madrigal and motet. As this kind of music is fairly complex, an ability to read music is important.

Last year the choir performed in an Edmonton Church and at two festivals. They are currently preparing for The Edmonton Music Festival and the St. Albert Music Festival.

The Tudor Singers meet every Wednesday at 41 Butterfield Avenue from 8:30 - 10 p.m. Anyone interested is invited to come and participate. For more information, please call Chris Massey at 459-8262.

CAPTION CAUSES KIDDING

Since the Gazette has been delivered, I have received an awful lot of kidding regarding the wording.

This wording had to be submitted by your own staff. For what it is worth, I was asked by the President and 1st Vice President to be involved in the presentation of these cheques and was not at any time "getting into the picture."

SNOWMOBILERS REPRIMANDED

I realize the snowmobile now is a very healthy form of sport indeed.

However, from what I've noticed, some Gibbons area owners or drivers of these vehicles are not concerned enough to keep their extremely loud vehicles, where they won't cause a worry.

Why on Saturday night at a quarter to eleven, January 20, 1979, did a group of them have to menace all those anywhere near the railway right-of-way near the water tank, then cross over the street rails, and go around the elevator road?

Why if they wished to leave on the west side of the tracks, didn't they just remain there?

TO THE EDITOR

Can't you people realize there's space north and south of there, where no one lives.

Don't bring your menacing noise around that water tank that late! Don't you realize a home stands there and those within deserve consideration? There's no need for any snowmobile to cross through Mom's yard either. She's got a right to privacy and peace. You sit in your fat comfort, so let that area alone. I walked out there and could easily have been injured. It was bad enough when we were interrupted as we were about to enjoy Christmas dinner. For heaven's sakes, wake up, and go your own way. Don't go causing a menace. Enjoy your sport, but be thoughtful. Help us to not mind your machines by using them in proper places, by keeping your noise where it won't disturb!

And happy sledding to you thoughtful drivers!

MPC

few zoning categories were needed to accommodate development. Under the new bylaw, the rapid growth will be considered, resulting in the increase of categories. Commercial categories will increase from four to eight; industrial from two to three; residential from three to five.

Under the new bylaw, any area under Direct Control (formerly Development Control) will not be permitted to remain in that state permanently. In the past, no legal proceedings were required to put an area under such control. However, in the future the declaration of any area as under Direct Control will require a full bylaw procedure, complete with advertising and public hearings. Similar changes have been made to the procedures for the adoption of Area Structure Plans (formerly Design Briefs). Such documents were formerly used by planners and officials as background information. However, the more structured requirements of the new Act call for the adoption of the Area Structure Plans by bylaw.

D.A.B. POWERS WIDENED

The city's Development Appeal Board will have greater scope under the new act. In the past the DAB could only make decisions in a very limited area, such as building heights or setbacks (the distance a building is set back from the property line). Under the new Act, while the board will not be able to approve a prohibited use, it can make some decisions to approve development. An example of this limited power would be the question of commercial use of a residence, which can be permitted as long as it does not interfere with the amenities of the area.

City officials feel the citizen will stand to benefit from the new provisions both directly and indirectly as the bylaw process will apply to all procedures of land use designation, giving greater opportunity for public participation during the mandatory public hearings. In addition, any area to be put into Direct Control will be posted, keeping the citizen better informed. None of these bylaw procedures will be as lengthy as they were previously because the new Act does not require a 10-day waiting period between the placing of advertisements concerning proposed changes.

Both the MPC and the city planners feel the new land use bylaw will have a salutary effect on St. Albert's development as there will be less ambiguity and confusion regarding the use of land. The increase in zoning categories permits more diversity of types of development and densities, and the bylaw will allow the municipality to exercise more efficient control over growth. This control will be more of an entrenched nature than discretionary, as the categories are more explicit. This will alleviate a recurring problem of contravening land uses in St. Albert, particularly in shopping centres. Because there will be a specific list of permitted uses, exceptions to the rule will be eliminated. It is felt that this is a more just approach, benefitting both the property owner and the city as a whole.

Although they are not working according to a rigid timetable, the authors of the first draft of the bylaw hope to have this phase completely reviewed and re-drafted by June. It is then given to interested parties such as the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission and the developers association (UDI). At this time any concerned members of the public can make submissions. The final draft will then go to council, for revision or approval.

Vandalism project attracting attention

The Project Incentive Pilot Study introduced four schools by the St. Albert Board of Education (nee St. Albert Protestant Separate School District) appears, by preliminary statistics, to be achieving some success in reducing the amount of vandalism.

Assistant Superintendent Lowell Thronson brought a report on the subject of vandalism before the Board Wednesday which showed that although he was "actually quite impressed... we shouldn't be too excited." A study on the effectiveness of the program would take three to five years.

The project is also gaining notice as far away as Vancouver Board members were told. The superintendent of one Vancouver district has been in touch with Mr. Thronson to get the details of the program.

The major obstacle will be maintaining student interest in the project. The idea was borrowed from a district in San Francisco where it got a start similar to the one in St. Albert. However officials in that district were unable to maintain the high level of interest and enthusiasm so vital to the long term success.

Lorne Akins students are hoping to gain a score clock for their gymnasium through their efforts to curb vandalism and students at W.D. Cuts will hold a referendum to determine a project. Items on the ballot will come forth through a competition set up by a committee of students, teachers and parents. One student from the school present at the Board meeting told Board members she felt the goal idea was important. She said her school - W.D. Cuts, was a new one and students wanted to keep it that way.

A custodian at the meeting said he felt that student awareness (of vandalism costs) was "snowballing" but that it would take time to evaluate just how much success the program would meet with. This would be about two years "down the road" but if nothing else it (the program) was making them aware and that's the most important part.

Mr. Vern Morris, co-ordinator of Crime Prevention, Alberta Solicitor-General's Department, agreed with the custodian saying that although he was "actually quite impressed... we shouldn't be too excited." A study on the effectiveness of the program would take three to five years.

The project is also gaining notice as far away as Vancouver Board members were told. The superintendent of one Vancouver district has been in touch with Mr. Thronson to get the details of the program.

However officials in that district were unable to maintain the high level of interest and enthusiasm so vital to the long term success.

of the project.

Several other aspects of the Board's fight to curb vandalism were also covered in the report. The Board has asked that the most emergent of these be brought before it as soon as possible in order that action may be taken.

One of the more interesting items is a suggestion to form a committee consisting of persons or groups of persons directly affected by vandalism in the community (the City, service clubs, businessmen, school districts, etc.).

Another is the employment of daytime custodians beginning with Paul Kane High School where the Project Incentive Program is meeting with the least success.

Mr. Thronson also suggested that more money be allotted the program in the coming school year if the schools are able to save in terms of vandalism costs.

The entire subject of vandalism reduction has certainly caught the attention of trustees and administration alike. If enthusiasm were all that were needed vandalism wouldn't stand a chance.

YWCA offers respite from care of disabled

To its already long list of services to the community, the YWCA has added a new and unique one. In response to the stated needs of a community survey, the YWCA has instituted the "Family Relief Service," which promises to be fully utilized by families with a handicapped member, either child or adult.

The YWCA Family Relief Service does just what it says - provides an opportunity for families with a handicapped member to obtain routine relief from the demands of continuous care, fulfill vacation plans or meet emergency needs. As Linda Marshall, who developed the program, points out, raising a non-handicapped child is difficult enough. Caring for a handicapped member of the family can be an exhausting, 24-hour-a-day occupation which leaves little time for outside activities or such luxuries as a holiday away from home.

ST. ALBERT INCLUDED

Until now, if parents of a handicapped person required or wanted some time to themselves, few options were available to them. For families who did not have close friends or relatives to occasionally call on, the only solution seemed to be group home or institutional placement for their son or daughter. The YWCA Family Relief Service has been designed to offer an alternative to this situation for people in Edmonton, Sherwood Park and St. Albert areas.

An initial core of care providers is available for assignment to families in the following capacities:

- Companion/Sitters: Individuals who will provide care in the family's home for a few hours at a time.

- Community Host Families: Families who will provide relief services in the warmth and friendliness of their own homes.

- Homemaker/Housekeepers: Individuals who will provide 24-hour care in the family home for a handicapped person and other children in the family.

Families most suited to this service will be those with children or adults who have mental or physical handicaps, sensory disabilities or multiple handicaps. Requests will be reviewed to assess the individual needs of the family and the handicapped individual, and to match them to a suitable care provider. Follow-up and evaluation is also provided. This unique procedure, involving the family in each aspect of planning relief care for a son or daughter, encourages confidence in the quality of service provided.

Administrative and operational costs of the YWCA Family Relief Service have been undertaken by several service organizations, so that the cost to the family can be limited to the care-provider fee only. These fees are paid directly to the care provider. Information is available on community and government resources which may assist families with relief costs.

Anne Anderson to speak here

Educator and former St. Albert resident Dr. Anne Anderson will deliver the main address at the sixth Albert Lacombe night.

Dr. Anderson, who has taught Cree language at Grant MacEwan Community College and compiled a series of Cree language texts, will speak on her childhood in St. Albert.

As well as being the occasion of the annual banquet and meeting of St.

Albert Historical Society, Albert Lacombe night is also an observance of the birthday, February 28, 1827, of the founder of St. Albert.

This year the event will be held at the Club Mocombo, February 24.

Tickets for the banquet, "St. Albert: A Pictorial History," and memberships will be offered by the Society in Grandin Mall Saturday, February 10 from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m.

More research goal of Heart Campaign

Volunteers for the Alberta Heart Foundation will be calling on St. Albert citizens in February to distribute life-saving education information and collect contributions for the 1979 Heart Campaign. This year's campaign goal has been set at $15,000.00.

The money raised during our campaign goes to support education and community programs in Alberta, and to research, said Dianna Poole, chairman of the Heart Foundation Campaign this year. "With costs rising everywhere and because of the tremendous toll in lives and money due to cardiovascular diseases each year, it is absolutely essential that we reach our goal," she said.

"Heart and blood vessel diseases afflict over 2,600,000 Canadians and are responsible for one of every two deaths from all causes in this country," said Mrs. Poole. It will cost Canadian consumers an estimated $2 billion in 1979 for lost output due to disability, medical care, drugs, hospitalization and rehabilitation connected with cardiovascular disease. We need volunteers and contributions to help in the fight for your life and ask that you give generously when a Heart volunteer calls on you," said Mrs. Poole.

Other key campaign committee chairmen serving the St. Albert Heart Association are Kathy Brown and Dayle McManaman.

Raffle for Games

The St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce is launching a major raffle in February to support the Summer Games being held in St. Albert this summer. Students from St. Albert's schools will be invited to join in and help sell tickets to raise $10,000 for the purchase of track and field equipment for the new track.

Paul Chalifoux, committee chairman, sees it as a wonderful opportunity for schools and business to work together for community improvement.

The prize, an Electrohome Projection Television system with five foot screen worth $3,300, will be awarded at a draw on the last day of the Trade Fair in May.

Sweetheart Ball brightens February

The St. Albert Lioness Club upcoming Sweetheart Ball to be held Saturday, February 10, 1979 at the Club Mocombo in St. Albert.

Take your sweetheart out for an evening of dining and dancing. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. with a beautiful smorgasbord meal being served at 7 p.m. Following dinner there will be dancing to the delightful music of Danny Boisvert and his Starlite Band from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

And don't forget the highlight of the evening is the draw for a mini-diamond ring donated by Sweetheart Jewellery. Maybe your sweetheart will be this year's lucky winner: maybe she will be queen of the 1979 Sweetheart's Ball.

To obtain tickets for the Ball this year, stop by Sweetheart Jewellers in the Grandin Mall or call: Mrs. Bunny Pelton at 458-4734, Mrs. Deb Gauthier at 459-3975 or Mrs. June Williams at 458-6796.

Door prize will be two return air passes to Vancouver compliments P.W.A. and spot dances will be held. Don't delay! Get your tickets early. Give that someone special a chance to be queen for a night and a chance to win a mini-diamond ring that will always remind her of your evening out together.

Toastmistresses hold banquet

The Sturgeon Valley Toastmistress Club held its annual Installation banquet on January 24, 1979, at the Akinsdale Community Centre.

A charter member of the club, Iris Chodan, installed the new executive: Muriel McKinstry, president; Helga Kiapel, vice president; Margaret Olson, secretary; Marian Coutts, treasurer.

"Contribute - Improve" is the theme for the banquet and the rest of the year. It emphasises the main thought expressed in Aldous Huxley's words "the only corner of the universe you can be sure of improving is your own self." It is the desire of all Toastmistress members to achieve greater understanding throughout the world by developing leadership abilities and by speech improvement.

New members are always welcome. For information call 458-9079 or 458-8018.

Band, Jr. and Sr. drill teams and sports carried on as usual on their respective nights. Now that semester exams are over for the first half of the school year, #533 expects all cadets who are in these optional activities to be out for the practices. Every member is required to make a team work, participate and BE THERE!

Information on joining #533 Squadron can be obtained at the Community Hall Thursday evenings at 0700 PM.

Community complex proposal revealed

The Woodlands area will be the site of a community focus complex sometime in the future, but if the proposed sketches are approved, it won't be the usual "Early Institutional" style. Rather than utilitarian brick, the plans call for a cozy complex of cottage-like buildings with pitched roofs reminiscent of thatched roofs. The complex consists of four free-standing buildings, which will house a number of rooms for specific purposes.

Included in the plans is a visual arts room, a kitchen, a day care centre, a nursery room, a games room for the younger set and a lounge for their beleaguered parents. A multi-purpose hall would be used for large gatherings, and could be adapted for "modest" stage productions.

Provision of the community complex was a condition of the development agreement signed by Carma Developers with the City of St. Albert when the Woodlands project was approved. The preliminary drawings were unveiled at Tuesday's meeting of the Municipal Planning Commission. MPC made no recommendation regarding the complex, believing that council should inspect the drawings first.

Correction

An error occurred in last week's Gazette in an article on the needs of the handicapped. The article said "There is a very real need for the community to be aware of educational bargaining for the handicapped." This should have said "educational programming."

In defence of fluff

DeFelice play has wide appeal

By Vicky Knight

Conventional wisdom has it that Canadian artists bomb in the commercial marketplace. "Who cares?" sniff the cultural elitists. "We do dynamic documentaries, plaintive poetry and obscure screenplays that reek of sensitivity. But (and this with a curious air of pride) we are NOT commercial!" For those who spell art, truth and beauty with reverent capitals, this may be laudable. However, in terms of reaching out to people, it is intolerably smug. If we are to celebrate our cultural identity, our artists cannot afford to direct their work solely at their peers. This kind of artistic incest alienates audiences and is a prime reason for the rejection of Canadian artists by Canadians.

Happily, James DeFelice is a man of wider aspirations; having the courage to write a play that he must know will be scorned as fluff in some quarters. "Take Me Where the Water's Warm" is not a play that provokes the dry, knowing chuckles of the cognoscenti. Instead, the amusing and unpretentious treatment of time-tested themes prompts titters, chortles and outright, inelegant guffaws. It is unashamedly sentimental and totally lacking in fashionable ennui. Seeing it is reminiscent of companionable hours by the radio, yukking it up with Jack Benny, Fibber McGee and Bob and Ray.

The action takes place at a beachfront cottage in British Columbia, in the early fifties. Eve Corbett owns the little retreat and is sheltering her nephew Donald from his overbearing parents. He is a struggling young sculptor, who has shunned the values of his father and jilted his fiancée at the altar, all for the pursuit of art. Ruth and Harry (mom and dad) aren't giving up their plans for him without a struggle, and have tracked the hapless Donald to the cottage. It is their desperate hope he will abandon all this artistic nonsense and settle down to some 'honest' work. Enter now Douglas Fuller, famous novelist and an old flame of Eve's. Like Donald, Douglas abandoned the love of his life (Eve) for art. He has returned after many years to reclaim his old love letters to her for inclusion in his latest book. To further complicate things, Harry and Ruth inveigle Patricia, the ex-fiancée to the cottage, in the hopes her fresh innocent charms will have more allure than the decadent life of the artist. The resulting chaos also brings her father, who arrives on the scene dispensing homilies.

The curtain rises on Ruth, as she tiptoes gingerly about the beachfront, dubiously inspecting her son's masterpieces. Without a word, Angela Gann tells us all about Ruth, a sweet, well-meaning and totally bird-brained lady. The rustic tranquility is then shattered by the arrival of Harry (Wally McSween). He is a glorious sight, striking a bellicose stance, his massive frame swaddled in a hideous Hawaiian shirt and screaming Madras shorts. Tree trunk legs are incongruously clad in pristine white knee socks and he stands astride the porch like some awesome Polynesian colossus. Hilarious! Gann and McSween played off each other as if they had been married for a thousand years: a belligerent bear and a cooing pigeon. Upon hearing Socrates quoted in argument against him, McSween harrumphs, "Socrates drank too much." With a genteel passion for accuracy, Gann replies "Not too much Harry -- the wrong thing!" Marilyn Gann, as Eve, joins the couple, moving with unobtrusive grace, conveying a sense of protective remoteness. She has the tanned, slightly leathery refinement of an aging Bryn Mawr girl, and a worldly tolerance that is born of past disappointments. Like her sister, Marilyn expertly establishes these traits within minutes of her entrance. She and Harry are fated to clash, and do with amusing frequency and the familiarity of old sparring partners. Please Turn to Page 12

Margie Gillis to dance here

Often hailed as the Isadora Duncan of our age, Montreal dance artist, Margie Gillis, returns to share her magically moving dance experience with Edmonton audiences for three performances only Friday through Sunday, February 2, 3 and 4 at 8:30 p.m. at Espace Tournesol, 11845 - 77 Street; walking distance from the LRT Coliseum Station.

Audiences and critics alike who have seen Margie Gillis dance no longer wonder how a solo performer can fill a stage and hold their attention for an entire evening. Gracefully lyrical, stark, often raw, MARGIE attempts to explore the nature (sometimes unnatural) edges of our psyche. She is at once entertaining and penetrating.

Admission is $3.50 and tickets are available at Hub Mall, The Bay and the door.

A special master class with Margie Gillis will be held on Saturday, February 3 from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon at Espace Tournesol. Fee is $5 and pre-registration is required.

For more information on the performance and workshop, please call 471-5235.

EMBATTLED LOVERS

Donald (James Forsythe) and Patricia (Kathie Ball) defiantly stare down an outraged Ruth (Angela Gann) while Harry (Wally McSween) glowers suspiciously. The James DeFelice play may prove to be that rare phenomenon on the Canadian cultural scene: the commercial hit.

The Skeptic's Tank

By Vicky Knight

Those with an inclination to biliousness should read no further, because the subject of today's scrutiny will surely turn your cheeks from glowing pink to apoplectic puce.

And, now, into the breach. And breach is the right word when you're discussing "Sassy" as in breach of faith, as in breach of trust of its teen-age readers. Whoever is responsible for this high gloss garbage should be locked in the stocks for eternity, or worse, be given a lifetime subscription to "Sassy" with orders to read it daily.

For the fortunates who have never encountered this remorseless rag, "Sassy" is aimed at teen-age girls -- they are the mark, so to speak. I selected the special holiday issue as these mags usually dress themselves up for the festive furor. In Sassy's case, it tarts itself up for the Christmas con, for this book elevates the hard sell to a graphic art. Page after glistening page pay homage to the tawdry and the superficial. The essence of the mag's philosophy is contained in the buzz-words that prefix many Sassy pitches: "Because you're so sassy ..." This obsequious little slogan launches campaigns for all sorts of indispensable items e.g. "Maybelline's Kissing Stick Kissing Kane set of three lip glosses in Lemonade/Strawberry/Grape/or Bubblegum/Cherry/Orange." No, this is not a special at Laura Secord's or the title of Tom Wolfe's latest book. It's edible make-up, you sassless dimwit!

A perusal of the best of Sassy is a criminally brief exercise. An article about the Tutankhamun exhibition reveals some little known facts of social history; i.e. Steve Martin sang a song about King Tut; Egyptian women were the first suckers to have their hair permed; Lord Carnarvon's dog howled at his master's death. Bloody earth-shattering, isn't it? The article is cattily entitled "What You'll Never Learn in School About Egypt." Balderdash! There is nothing in this article a girl couldn't find out from her teacher or a good book on Egyptology. And why is this sleazy magazine putting down schools? Perhaps because its Machiavellian publishers realize that smart girls shun Sassy and all its prattle. The title is a trivial item and part of an old cliché, but taken in the context of the magazine it reflects the chicanery of centuries. It goes like this: convince girls it's smart to be dumb, tell them to trade in books for cosmetics, tell them style triumphs over substance. The end result is inevitable: an endless vista of barefeet, pregnancy and kitchens.

Sassy carries the standard items about weight and skin problems, and I won't quibble at these. Bad skin and fat are enough to make anyone miserable, and if Sassy has some answers, fine. But it doesn't stop there. A bizarre-looking, barely recognizable Kristy McNichol lists "10 Ways to Get Noticed." This pretty and talented kid is tricked out like a pit-stop Lolita, wearing a grotesque blue coverall, a sequined halter, and ... little plastic toy cars pinned all over her. A girl could get noticed all right. But the straitjacket they put her in might ruin the fun.

I could rant on for pages about Sassy's subliminal and not-so subliminal decadence. The caption "Wouldn't you like to have a big sis like Olivia" (Newton-John) lends credence to the theory that saccharine kills. A breathless blurb about Jaclyn Smith's high-flying adventures blow-drying her hair made me cringe. The movie and book reviews are pure P.R. flackery. The two features of any substance, on sports and careers are brief token sops to the modern notion that the females can think. (Sassy's editors never bought this idea).

Sassy has awful implications. Today's little girl can start with Barbie dolls, graduate to Sassy and move on to Vogue and Viva. Any brain she possessed will be atrophied by this stage. Why is this necessary? The rag business can tout the spring line in a magazine that carries articles on politics, religion, social problems, finance or science. These can be written to interest a teen-age girl without treating her like a cretin. Sassy and publications of that ilk can't believe this however and keep their expectations low. Tragically, so do their readers.

Concert series has music, mime, mirth

The time of waiting for spring can be endless, and the months leading to its arrival tedious. This year, the pre-Spring doldrums will be brightened by a program of concerts sponsored by the city's Community Services Department.

The series gets a musical start Saturday, February 17 with a special concert for children, kindergarten age and older. This can be a painless and intriguing way to introduce children to the Performing Arts. This concert will be held at the Wild Rose School Auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

The next event in the series will delight both children and adults. From the world-famous Moscow circus comes Bim Bom Boom, a trio of superb artists who now reside in Canada. They offer a show featuring juggling, balancing, magic and delightful comedy skits. The group will perform at V.J. Maloney School, in the lunchroom on Monday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m.

The ancient art of mime has fascinated audiences since its beginnings. Audiences of all ages will appreciate the artistry of the Arete Contemporary Mime Troupe. Arete is a versatile group, and their act comprises sound while retaining the classic traditions of mime. Acrobatics, magic, juggling, pantomime and improvisation round out their program. The troupe will appear at V.J. Maloney School on Tuesday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the lunchroom.

Tickets are available from members of the Enterprise Teen Council. The teens are hoping that ticket sales will go well, because any monies realized over the sale of 150 tickets for each performance goes to their organization.

For more information about the concerts, call Lynn or Shawn at the Teen Centre 458-8848 or June Leggett at Community Services 459-6601, ext. 79.

Weston, Adams photos exhibited

Two portfolios of prints by Ansel Adams and one by Brett Weston, which are part of the University Library's Permanent Collection, will be on public display at the U of A Gallery and Museum from February 17 until the middle of March.

The photography of Ansel Adams has been important in the United States for over 40 years. Born in 1902, Adams' earliest photography began as a documentation of his travels in the mountains of the High Sierra. He has continued to utilize nature as the main content of his art and the form of his work has evolved through his desire to present his subject matter with passionate objectivity. Adams was an important member of the California group of photographers who formed F 64 in 1932.

He was among the group of California photographers who exhibited in the major exhibitions held at the M.H.

de Young Museum in San Francisco in 1932 and 1933.

Brett Weston photographed the White Sands National Monument gypsum dunes first in 1945 when he was stationed at El Paso, Texas and again after the war when he was awarded a post-service Guggenheim Fellowship, the first to be granted in photography.

DeFelice

Veterans Gann, Gann and McSweeney have their audience settled back comfortably in smiling anticipation in very short order.

As Donald, James Forsythe makes several racing entrances and exits adroitly dodging his clucking parents. A greater sense of pre-occupation with his work might have lent more depth to Donald, as Donald the mutinous son is more apparent than Donald the fiery seeker of artistic truth. There is a hint of sullen sulking about him that lessens one's sympathy for him.

In the role of the jilted girl friend, Kathie Ball was terrific; a whirling dervish of conflicting emotions. Her Patricia fluctuated wildly from wide-eyed naivete to glib pseudo-sophistication. Ball handled this with dazzling alacrity, while still leaving no doubt that a caring woman lurked beneath the madcap manner.

The casting of Douglas Fuller was a disappointment. Instead of the tweedy, slightly jaded cosmopolitan I had expected, Michael Murdoch burst upon the scene with the zest of a Shriner at his first out-of-town convention. He was too natty and too exuberant to be credible as a world-weary cynic, pining for the innocence of lost love. Cool, contained Eve would surely have instinctively withdrawn from such a vehement extrovert. I found that there was a lack of contrast among the male characters. Had their differences been accentuated the situation would have been even funnier.

The two smaller parts of Arthur Scott and Jack Spriggs were the icing on the cake. Arthur, Patricia's father is the ultimate Philistine, but C. Holte Davidson gave him an ingenuous touch that made him human, rather than the caricature that he might have been. Alan Lysell showed a nice sense of timing as the postman, although his youth occasionally showed through.

The set for "Take Me

Where The Water's Warm" was splendid. At a glance the cozy mustiness of a thousand summer cottages is summoned up. It was just right, from the flannelette sheet drooping untucked from the porch day bed to the ancient wicker furniture, looking precariously fragile. To see it is too wallow in happy nostalgia.

DeFelice's play is in its premiere production at the Northern Light Theatre. I expect it will be the first of many. The play would lend itself well to little theatre dinner theatre, radio and T.V. It might be fluff, but its good fluff.

"Seasons"

It's flawed, but it works

By Vicky Knight

Theatre 3's production of "Seasons" is in keeping with the spirit of the material itself. It is energetic, poignant and a little tentative as to its own success.

The revue was put together by some former Citadel folk in Vancouver in 1975. Tom Kerr and Susan Wright wrote the lyrics from the book by Laurence Gough. When they are good the lyrics have a gentle wit and sensitivity. When they are bad they resort to cliché. Rick Fox, who at 24 is something of a musical wunderkind, composed the 20 numbers for the show and presides at the piano in this production. He is a dazzling pianist with poise and authority, and I expect his career is just taking off. Although I didn't leave the theatre humming the tunes, some of them left traces, like "Don't Call Us," "Nothing to Lose" and "If They Like My Style." I was less than enchanted by the sugary "My Story of Love" which suggested a Marlequin romance set to music, or "Doesn't Anybody Know My Name," which could best be described as a lyrical whine.

The three performers were all appealing, if lacking the zest hours of unshakeable self-confidence. David Brunetti comes the closest, moving and singing with poise and power. Faye Cohen has a kind of vulnerable vitality that is charming. All she needs is trust in her own talents and some more work in the upper registers. Val Ryder made me conscious of the performer's fragility on stage and his dancing had a fluid quality. His voice is pleasant but unexceptional. The acting was generally mediocre but the dramatic demands are slight and this deficiency is not as noticeable as it would be elsewhere. All three expressed themselves better in song and dance than in speech.

The set for "Seasons," by Director-Designer Drew Borland was spartan enough to hint at bare, rented rooms, and the bold strokes of orange, turquoise and mauve are the colours suggested by the various musical moods of joy, tranquility and melancholy. The lighting was dim but effective.

Seasons had some major flaws: several weak songs, imperfect voices and performers who lacked certainty. But strangely enough it worked. Director Borland has coaxed the emotions out of his cast, so the audience can feel the pains and pleasures of life in the wings. Rather than the cheery uplift promised in the promotion of the show, I thought Seasons had melancholy overtones. However, it made me feel, and that's what theatre is all about. The rest is mere technique.

POISED FOR STARDOM

Three eager neophytes are seen here awaiting the fateful phone call that could catapult them to stardom. Val Ryder, Faye Cohen and David Brunetti star in the Theatre 3 revue Seasons, which takes a sometimes poignant look at the uncertain life of the fledgling entertainer.

Music... as I hear it!

By Razbo

Nick Gilder's band is very good

I don't think that Nick Gilder's voice lives up to the quality and power of his band. While I would like Nick to kick his voice down an octave, it is not distasteful, just not as powerful as his back-up. As a team, Nick and Jim McCulloch are tremendous arrangers, especially on

YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE, which is a very well thought out album.

CITY NIGHTS left me a little cold, appearing to have been produced on the left-over energy of YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE. The arrangements are less crafty and the music is not as intricate. Nick's voice is more powerful, but the whole album is weaker professionally. The tunes I liked on CITY NIGHTS were the two hit singles "Hot Child In The City" and "Here Comes The Night" along with "All Because of Love" and "Fly High." However, the lyrics aren't as carefully thought out as the numbers on YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE.

I can't help thinking of T-Rex (Electric Warrior) when I listen to YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE. The lyric structure is amazingly similar. The most striking aspect of this disc is the music. The band is powerful, dynamic and pounds out excellent rock and roll. Jim McCulloch handles all of the guitar work and helps out Nick in the writing and arranging end of it. Eric Nelson plays bass, Chet McCracken is the outstanding drummer, and on keyboards and synthesizers is Steve Halter. (Don Ellis provided the trumpet on "All Across the Nation" and the trombone on "Amanda Greer").

"Runaways in the Night" is my favorite musically, as the lyrics kind of die out towards the end. I also like Amanda Greer. The arrangement of it is most interesting.

I was very impressed with the picture on the album cover of the band. They don't appear to be the freaked out "whako's" other groups support. If you like good rock and roll I suggest you give Nick and his band a listen, but I prefer Nick the arranger/writer than Nick the singer. One of his fans stuck up for Nick saying, "Yeah, but he's got broad shoulders." Well if that's what you're into, you know who you are.

Community Hall. This is a Students' Union affair and anyone desiring tickets must purchase them from the school. The dance starts at 8:30 p.m. and should prove to be an excellent evening of entertainment. The string band is a very accomplished group.

WHO NEWS

Pete Townshend is excited about the theatrical production of TOMMY in the West End of London. It is expected that TOMMY will experience extended play in the live circuit.

As far as THE WHO itself goes, the group is currently holding meetings and has acquired two new players. They are also discussing a new album.

ROYALTY PLUG

Brenda Rudiger from Royalty Records informs me that a lot has been happening over there. Russ Thornberry has just completed the production on Glory-Anne Carriere's new album KEEPER OF THE HEART due for release January 31. R. Harlan Smith has completed his album WE'VE GOT THE MAGIC. The album should be released in late February, but a single "Ding-a-Ling Debbie" was released last week.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

The quote this week is from my fave Bob Seger from the album STRANGER IN TOWN. I think the line has a number of applications, for everyone. It's from the song "Still the Same" and reads, "The trick, you said, was never play the game too long."

RAY IS OKAY

I'm not really into A.M., but Ray Telford on our local radio station is my mainman if I had to choose, even though he's no Len Theusen. The reason I bring Ray up at this time is because of a song he played the other night "Let's Spend the Night Together" a Jagger Richard's tune. From what I understood, the reason Ray played it was because of his obsession with the album cover. However, I have since learned that Ted Hockaday is the "brains" behind programming. The album is by Charo, that hot-blooded "cootchie cootchie" lady. Here's a hint boys, jiggle the album cover and you get the added thrill of a simulated live performance.

"Piaf" a big hit in Vancouver

Vancouver critics have given Northern Light Theatre's production of Piaf: Her Songs Her Loves the same sort of rave reviews it gathered in Edmonton, and the show is once again playing to packed houses at that city's City Stage.

Piaf: Her Songs, Her Loves is written and directed by Northern Light Artistic Director Scott Swan, based on City Stage's earlier, very successful version. Now returned there in circuitous fashion, Northern Light's production prompted Vancouver Express critic Bob Allan to ask: "How could anyone expect such fortunate lightning to strike twice? A happy answer to that question was provided as the Edmonton production was unveiled.

"Again, Vancouverites were able to enjoy the double bonus of seeing a new talent successfully evoke the spirit of Piaf. Her name is Kathy Michael McGlynn, and she is well worth seeing ... her performance takes you on an emotional roller-coaster ride that elicits tears of both sadness and joy.

"Scott Swan's staging is especially successful in capturing a cabaret ambience. The music is well-directed by Angela Gann and Allan Stichbury's set design provides good visual support."

To this, the critic for The Courier added that "This new production is bound to be a Christmas hit. The material is that good." And Peter Elliot Weiss of CHQM Radio said "Kathy Michael McGlynn probes into the role both as a singer and as an actress. As the latter, she is absolutely sincere, and brings both depth and charm to this street-toughened legend. As a singer, McGlynn belts out the best of Piaf without any seeming effort at all."

Finally, John Lazarus on CBC-AM: "By the end, Kathy Michael McGlynn had earned herself a standing ovation."

Piaf: Her Songs, Her Loves continues at City Stage through February 7.

Only three child car seats approved for use

During 1979 the Sturgeon Health Unit will periodically provide the Gazette with information useful to families living within the health unit. The material featured will be in conjunction with activities centering around the International Year of the Child.

For some time now the Consumers' Association of Canada has been active in promoting the use of dependable, easy-to-install car seats. A major part of their effort in this area has focused on the mandatory standards for car seat performance under accident conditions, which are regulated by the federal government. It is CAC's position that these standards unnecessarily restrict the variety of car seats available on the Canadian market. For example, the regulation has prevented the legal sale of restraint systems which can safely accommodate children weighing more than 35 lbs. Infant carriers are not subject to Canadian regulation.

The following are car seats that have passed CAC standards:

Infants (birth to 20 lbs.): GM Love Seat - Questor Dymomite. Rear facing infant seats are not equipped with tether straps.

Infants and Toddlers (newborn to 35 lbs. - 30 lbs. in a heavy snowsuit) - Kantwet Care - Peterson Safety Shell #74 (Model #75 does not convert to infant carrier).

Toddlers - GM Child Love Seat - Swyngomatic American; Kantwet #590 - Safety Seat.

Finally, we should like to emphasize that all of the car seats sold in Canada must be bolted to the parcel shelf (or some other metal anchoring surface) of the car to ensure adequate protection of a child during an accident. Without being firmly bolted, the seat is likely to move forward exposing the child to contact with the interior of the car.

Information on specific ratings on these seats, and the Edmonton Jayettes "Operation Buckle-up-Babe" program, can be obtained from the local office of the Sturgeon Health Unit 459-6671.

Ron Mix to address fellowship

This month, the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship, will hear an address by Edmonton businessman Ron Mix. He has been active in the construction trades, livestock business and more recently as "Mix The Mover." His moves have included houses, business structures and several grain elevators.

Ron has been very active in The Far East Broadcasting ministry and also in the Gideons. His testimony is interesting and God has been using him in an ever widening way. You will not want to miss this! Be sure to reserve your seating early and invite that businessman guest to be with you. It is sure to be an outstanding evening, and of course includes the well known Club Mocambo smorgasbord.

Their next meeting is February 17 in St. Albert at the Club Mocambo at 6:30 p.m.

USC supports Lesotho egg circles

Do you know what an Egg Circle is? The USC of Canada does. In 1972, the Department of Agriculture in Lesotho, Southern Africa, requested the USC to participate in helping to erect and equip buildings where local women could sell eggs. These Egg Circles or Cooperatives, have proven very successful as an outlet for this cheap and popular protein food. The USC has contributed over $84,000 to this self-help program. USC headquarters is located at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind since 1946. White Cane Week is a time during the year when particular attention is paid to the prevention of blindness or severe visual impairment and to the strides made to improve the condition of the blind socially, educationally, and economically. The White Cane, once considered the symbol of blindness, is now considered the symbol of independence, and is the most widely used travel aid of the blind and visually impaired. The White Cane and other aids and devices have made it possible for the visually impaired to accept new challenges in education and employment and to live more independently.

SIGHT SAVED ... Even with all of the advances made there is still no substitute for good vision. At present there are over 30,000 blind and visually impaired people living across Canada. Every year approximately 2,000 Canadians become blind. Of these cases, half are considered preventable. People take vision for granted. It is imperative that people become more conscientious about preserving their sight.

People should take more precaution at home, i.e. keeping toxic cleaning fluids which can damage eyes in a safe storage area out of the reach of children, and more precaution at work, i.e. safety glasses should be worn during any maintenance work inside or outside. Also, everybody should have regular eye examinations.

CAN BE SHARED ... The Eye Bank needs additional donors. Offer assistance to a blind person when it is needed. The CNIB is a voluntary agency that utilizes the services of 90,000 volunteers across the country, but more volunteers are needed all the time. Volunteers provide reader service directly, by transcribing material into Braille, or onto tape. Personal assistance such as shopping, driving, and in some cases companionship, are other areas in which to volunteer.

During White Cane Week learn what the problems of the blind and visually impaired are, learn how the blind and visually impaired cope with their problems; learn how you can help the blind and visually impaired cope with their problems.

School promoting Year of the Child

God gave me a body and a bright healthy mind,
He has a special purpose, that He wanted me to find,
So, He made me something special,
I'm the only one of my kind.

In this, the International Year of the Child, Bertha Kennedy School will, throughout the year, be submitting profiles of some of its students. The theme of each profile will be devoted to the potential which is found in each and every child.

We at Bertha Kennedy School think the verse of the song found above reflects the truth. Everybody is really one of a kind. There are so many who are good at one thing and not at another. Some are good readers, others are good printers; some are good in arithmetic and others are good in sports. Some are slow in everything and need extra help and coaching. But, in the end, what a satisfaction when that unique child develops and matures to his or her full potential.

VALERIE PAWLYK, Grade 6 at Bertha Kennedy School has written the following poem. In it she reveals quite a lot about herself, thus our first profile.

I Am A Child

I'm scared of heights,
but I have rights.
I want to be me.
I want to be free.

Like a wild seed,
I keep growing like a wood.
It is often heard,
A child must leave home like a bird.

I must toe the line,
But that's a good sign.
I'm sure you see,
Why I'm glad I'm me.

I represent the child of Seventy-nine.
That is why I feel so fine.
I stand tall like the statue of Liberty.
Because I have lots of responsibility.

"Alberta by Teens" entries invited

The Edmonton Art Gallery and Alberta Education announce an art exhibition for 1979 entitled Alberta By Teens which will show through pictures how teenagers in Alberta feel towards their province.

Every teen-ager in Alberta is invited to create a representational or abstract picture in which he or she interprets an Alberta scene or activity, or an area of concern -- and enter the picture in Alberta By Teens.

Fifty pictures will be selected from all over the province for an exhibition at The Edmonton Art Gallery in July, 1979. Later, 20 of these pictures will be chosen to form a three-year travelling art show that will visit all regions in Alberta. The selection committee will be looking for interpretations that are original and creative.

This project is open to all residents of Alberta between the ages of 13 - 19 and is limited to one entry per person. There is no admission fee. Participants can use whatever technique they like: drawing, painting, print making, collage (photography and sculpture are not included). The size of the work must not exceed 24 inches (56 cm.) in length or width. The deadline for submission is Monday, April 2, 1979.

Entry forms are available in all junior and senior high schools and from every Regional Office of the Department of Education.

Participants will be notified by May 1 whether their entries have been accepted for the exhibition. For further information on Alberta By Teens write or call your Regional Office of the Educational Department or John King, head of Art Education, the Edmonton Art Gallery, #2 Sir Winston Churchill Square, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 2C1 (429-6781).

Paul Kane Kibitzer

By Shauna Oor

Exam week is a memory. I analyze the coming five months (weep, weep, sob). For me, the hard part is yet to come.

I walk solemnly down the empty halls, cherishing these last few moments of freedom. The halls are deathly still; they smell of detergents. The gyms have been polished. Classroom desks have been emptied of wrappers and other useful garbage accumulated during the war of learning. The floors shine, windows are streakless. The school is fresh, rested from the relentless pounding of feet on its tile floors, of raised voices, of bells that last an eternity.

In a few hours all that will change. I stand in the hall between the cafeteria and the office, between food and authority. My senses are alive, relishing the quiet.

"How harmless and peaceful it is," I say in disbelief.

"The calm before the storm," a voice reminds me.

"No," I say, "surely this euphoria will last for ever." (I cannot accept the impending doom of crowding people).

"Yes," the voice says, mockingly, "hard to believe isn't it? It's always like this during the holidays, however short."

"They're all short to me," I said. My curiosity got the better of me. "Who are you?"

"I'm the voice of the school," the voice replied.

"I didn't know they had voices," I said. "Of course we do," it said, "I also have uncanny hearing." I searched the remote caverns of my mind for anything scandalous in my past but found nothing. (Nothing scandalous, I mean). Relieved, I calmly regained my composure.

"Fascinating," I replied, only mildly impressed and sounding like a character in a "Star Trek" rerun. Talking and hearing were nothing new to me. I did it everyday.

"Have you heard the latest?" he chortled.

I was taken aback. I had just met this school (technically) and here it was, repeating gossip to a total stranger. "No, what," I heard myself say.

"Well," said the school, "I heard that some people that go to this school went on this ski trip to Lake Louise without chaperones! It's not a school sponsored trip, but can you imagine the things that will be going on?"

"What do you mean?" I protested. "I think that as mature young adults they will be properly behaved and merely have a good time!" "Do you really believe that?" the school asked suspiciously. "Yes," I said firmly, "and we'll be..." "Aha," the school said, "You're going; you're biased because YOU ARE GOING."

"I think it's a good idea. It'll give us a chance to broaden our horizons, to expand on the boundaries within which we live, it's the opportunity of a..."

"Lifetime," the school cut in. "Okay, okay, but what are you really going to do?"

"You mean 'apres ski'?" I said evasively.

"That's right," the school said. "What do you do when you're not skiing?"

"Well," I began. "We hold sing-songs, play cards, talk, trade Pete Rose bubblegum cards. Perfectly harmless."

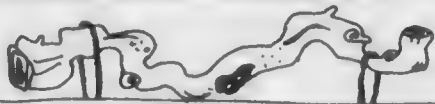

"You've convinced me. All that sincerity isn't good for the old furnace. Now, in my day..."

I left him there, joyfully reminiscing about the days when he was just a little one-roomed schoolhouse.

Lorne Akins victorious on several counts

"Super" was the only way to describe the weekend at Lorne Akins Junior High as three separate championships and one third place finish highlighted student activities.

Following a victory over the Sir George Simpson basketball teams in regular league play on Friday, both the senior boys and senior girls teams, (accompanied by their newly formed cheerleading squad) travelled to Barrhead for the annual Barrhead Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Unfortunately, the boys team lost a tough semi final game giving them third place in the tournament, but it was the girls team who defeated the defending champions, Hawthorne Junior High, and thus won the championship trophy. Another bonus for the Akins students was the victory by the cheerleaders in the annual cheerleading competition that goes along with most basketball tournaments. The fact that this group is in its first year of operation makes the victory even sweeter. Congratulations to Mr. Dukovac and the girls basketball team, and to Mrs. Adams and the cheerleaders.

Back in St. Albert, it was Mr. Schulha and the Lorne Akins wrestling team that was victorious in the first annual St. Albert Wrestling championships. Junior high wrestling is relatively new to St. Albert, and Mr. Schulha has put together a highly competitive team.

It was very appropriate that the first winners of the Lorne Akins Memorial Trophy turned out to be Lorne Akins Junior High, as Mr. Akins himself during his lifetime, had held both the Alberta and Manitoba wrestling championships. The trophy that bears his name was kindly donated by Mrs. Marguerite Akins.

The tournament was a huge success in that many local schools were represented. Akins won by a very slim margin over St. Albert High, as total points was the key to victory.

Special congratulations go to the following winners from Akins: third place finishers - Bob Cleashy, Kevin Rokosh, Andy Boulee, Darrell Coekwill, and Dan Van Kesteren; second place finishers - Rob Ryder, Jeff Whyte, Todd Hammond, Diane Durnall, Craig Lukaniuk and Scott Comfort; and St. Albert Wrestling Champions - Bob by Havens and Brenda Verhulst.

It was really a super weekend for Lorne Akins

Enter trashy jingle contest and be a winner

"You write the words, we'll write the music" is the theme of Outdoors Unlittered's Trashy Jingle contest to be held in Alberta throughout 1979.

"We are very excited about this promotion and hope that many people will send us their words for a song encouraging Albertans to pitch-in and keep Alberta clean and beautiful," stated Mrs. Joy Finlay, chairman of Outdoors Unlittered.

Entrants can enter as often as they wish and four winning commercials will be chosen during the year. Entry deadlines are March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31, 1979. Winners will receive $25 for their entry which will be recorded and played on all participating Alberta radio stations as a public service.

The Trashy Jingle contest was the brainchild of the creative team of Marty Forbes, Bruce Bondeson and Dave Kilbank. All are employees of CKXL Radio in Calgary. Their idea for the contest won first prize in an Alberta-wide radio commercial contest held by Outdoors Unlittered in 1978. They will continue to combine their creative talents to write the music for, and record, the winning commercials throughout the year as their contribution to keeping Alberta beautiful.

Entries for the Trashy Jingle Contest should be sent to Outdoors Unlittered, 1, 9930 - 106 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 1C8.

Outdoors Unlittered is a non-profit, charitable organization supported by Alberta Environment, local government, industry, schools, the media and the general public.

They call it winter carnival . . .

By Dale Chappell

Mid-winter madness begins to drag everyone's spirits down about this time of year. However the people at Sir George Simpson Junior High School have a solution for this problem. It's their annual Winter Carnival, designed to give students and teachers a break at a most dismal time of year.

Simpson teachers and students are all divided into four different houses: Fraser, Hearne, Henday and Thompson. During the winter carnival, everybody has an opportunity to become involved in a wide variety of activities and events. People participating in these events earn points for their houses, and, at the end of the carnival, the house with the most points is declared the winner.

Winter Carnival '79 began on January 12 when the four houses met with their respective staff leaders for the task of electing King and Queen candidates. The results were as follows:

Fraser - Ian King and Carol Burgess; Hearne - Farida Muhammed and Gary Baxter; Henday - Craig Rusnak and Lani Wilson; Thompson - Jackie van Domselaar and Roy Phillips.

On January 24, everyone wearing their house colors earned points for their houses. As well, winter carnival tickets went on sale, Simpson students began going out into the community selling tickets to their families, friends or any other hopeful person who would buy them!

All entries for the winter carnival academic contest were turned in Monday. The categories included creative writing, games and puzzles, limericks, short stories, and poetry. The judges are apparently having a difficult time deciding on the winning entries because of the high calibre of work and effort put into them.

On Monday, February 5, the Students' Union-sponsored Winter Carnival '79 Sockhop will be held at noon. During the afternoon, the grade six students have their chance to show whose best in outdoor events. On February 6, the grade seven outdoor

"Jottings" from Vietnam

A letter received by a lady in Victoria, B.C. from Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, executive director of the USC of Canada, was tacked up in the laundry room in the lady's apartment. Why? Because Dr. Hitschmanova keeps USC friends informed on her personal inspection of USC projects overseas through letters called "Jottings." This letter was "Jottings from Vietnam, 1978". Dr. Hitschmanova has visited north Vietnam three times and south Vietnam six times since 1969. If you would like to read a copy of Dr. Hitschmanova's letter and learn what the USC is doing in Vietnam, write to USC headquarters, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

Children help USC

In this day of Garage Sales, Lawn Sales, Verandah Sales and Attic Sales, it is almost nostalgic to hear of a White Elephant Sale. The pupils of MacNiven School in Noranda, Quebec had a White Elephant Sale recently. They made a nice sum of money too. However, these children were kind enough to send the entire proceeds to the USC of Canada where their donation will benefit needy children overseas. USC headquarters is located at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

events will take place in the morning, at noon the teachers go out to do battle with each other, and in the afternoon the grade eights have their outdoor events. The morning of February 7 sees the outdoor events wrap up with the grade nine students drawing in the final points for their houses.

And then, on the afternoon of the 7th, the award presentation and crowning ceremony occurs. The lucky person holding the winning Winter Carnival '79 ticket receives $50 cash, and the winners of the academic contest will each get a "bean bag" frog trophy, designed by Bonnie Darichuk. The tension really begins to mount as all points earned by the four houses are tallied. In the final few minutes of the day, the winning house of Winter Carnival '79 will be revealed and its student candidates crowned the 1979 Winter Carnival King and Queen!

Yes, this year's Sir George Simpson Winter Carnival looks to be a huge success. That is, unless our "mysterious meteorological menace," the weatherman, refuses to co-operate!!

Saints halt losing streak with win over Suns

The Saints halted a two-game losing streak Friday night as they upset the third place Taber Golden Suns 5-1 in St. Albert.

Saints had previously lost to the Fort on Wednesday by a 9-6 score with Marty Achymichuk scoring four of the Traders goals.

Taber also lost 7-3 Saturday night in Red Deer before rebounding for a 6-3 win Sunday afternoon in Sherwood Park.

In other weekend Alberta Junior Hockey League games, Fort Saskatchewan Traders lost 5-4 Saturday night in Calgary to the league leading Canucks and then took a close 7-6 win over the visiting Calgary Chinooks on Sunday.

After weekend action Canucks led the seven-team league with 66 points, four more than second place Traders and 10 ahead of the Golden Suns. St. Albert holds down fourth spot with 52 points, 18 more than the Calgary Chinooks. Red Deer Rustlers are in sixth position with 26 points while the Crusaders from Sherwood Park are deep in the league basement with only 14 points in 43 games.

Although the Saints are in fourth spot, they have three games in hand on both the Canucks and Traders and four on the Golden Suns. Chinooks have also played two more than St. Albert.

Saints will get a chance to catch up on a couple of those games this week with back-to-back games with Sherwood Park, Tuesday and Wednesday and then Saturday in Calgary against the Canucks and Sunday in Taber.

Coach Messier is hoping for a clean sweep of the four game set but would settle for three out of four.

The Crusader series will be Tuesday in Sherwood Park and tonight in St. Albert.

Last Wednesday's game with the Fort saw the Traders take an early 3-0 lead on a pair of goals by Marty Achymichuk and Mike Ferris's single before Brian Shaw scored on the power-play late in the opening period.

Mickey Volcan and Perry Zaparniuk scored early in the second for the Saints to tie the game at 3-3, only to watch the Traders score a pair late in the period as Don Keller and John Ewasniuk

Legion wins Big Iron

The Kinsmen Minor Hockey Association's annual Big Iron Midget tournament came to a successful conclusion last Sunday afternoon, with the St. Albert Legion team coming out on top with a 14-1 drubbing of the Spruce Grove Sabres.

Things went rather smoothly, with the exception of the late withdrawal of Ponoka. The withdrawal of Ponoka forced cancellation of one game, and gave St. Albert's Weber Realty Canadians a bye into the A side. Game seven would also have been cancelled, but, thanks to Lawrence Donnelly and his CKST midget B rep team, an exhibition game was played against Calahoo in that time slot.

In the final, the Legion hit the scoreboard quickly with only 30 seconds gone in the opening frame. After the first they led by a 4-0 count, and by the end of the second period, the score was 7-1.

Myron Polis was very accurate in the final, connecting on four goals and three assists. Leo Huot and Kevin McKinstry were equally as hot, as both tallied for three goals and four assists. The line of Polis, Huot and McKinstry gained a grand total of 21 points in the game.

Other pointgetters were Danny Chetner with one goal and four assists, Gord McRae with two goals, Todd McKinstry with a goal and an assist, while single assists were awarded to Terry Nipp, Brian Lamash and Ron Brisson.

The lone Spruce Grove goal came from Barry McTavish, with Simon Bell and Terry Petherbridge collecting assists.

Grove's goalie Harold Fitz had his hands full, turning aside 57 shots, while the Legion's netminder, Philip Haries, had very little work to do stopping only nine shots. Haries did, however, make two good saves on Spruce Grove break-aways.

Legion team members also ran away with the individual trophies, Philip Haries was named top goalie on the basis of a 2.75 average. Myron Polis and Kevin McKinstry will each receive a trophy for most points. Polis was also voted best forward of the tourney. Dale Weller took the best defenceman honor, and Legion coach Clem Brisson won the best coach award.

Three local school teams to indoor games

This weekend's Edmonton Journal Indoor Games will see three St. Albert schools in the finals of the school 8 x 1 lap relays.

A total of 123 teams were entered in the trials, held Friday at the Kinsmen Fieldhouse in Edmonton.

In the elementary boys event, Vital Grandin and William Cuts schools will be in the final, while the Vincent J. Maloney boys team made it to the finals in the junior high boys race.

Members of the three teams are: Vital Grandin - Leigh Jurassa, Cameron Magosse, Curt Goeson, Pat Fullam, Shawn Cronin, David Mattice, Robert Dollovoet and Matthew Pesklewis, coached by Barry Richardson.

W.D. Cuts - Dave Clark, Terry Olson, Tim Korz, Andy Barnett, Lorne Forster, Grant Davidson, Tony Lewis, and Steve Cosens, coached by Roger Scott.

Marty O'Kell On Sports

Last week in a Gazette front page story, it was pointed out that the Alberta Summer Games, to be staged by St. Albert this coming August, could cost about half a million bucks. This figure is derived from a list of venues that should be built, plus some existing sites that need upgrading. (The list was presented to St. Albert Council by City Manager Bob Byron).

It was also pointed out that not one red cent (from the money the provincial government supplies to the host community for putting on the Games) will go to the sports facilities needed for the event.

More than half the amount has been committed to the track and field facility, running in the neighborhood of $272,000.

The problem that concerns the City, and you and I for that matter, is there is no more money to be had for the venue sites. Unless of course, they take out a loan...OR make you and I pay for it through taxes. If ALL the construction and upgrading goes through, it could cost a little bit more than one mill for one year.

AND WHAT IS A MILL THESE DAYS?...Good question. Since the assessments have changed, they are not as small as I figured. A mill, based on the average St. Albert home, would be in the area of $35 to $40. Maybe a little higher, maybe a little lower.

So there you have it...now you know what it could cost us. But then some of the proposals could get axed, and that would be somewhat cheaper.

Unfortunately, St. Albert DOES need most of the sports facilities that were on the list, especially the upgrading of some.

One of the main problems, as I see it, is the City doesn't feel like letting our community help out, as in the case of the Lions proposal of a fieldhouse to go next to the track. The idea was approved in principle, but only after a lot of "ummming and ahhing."

It doesn't look like that will go through, because St. Albert does not have a Recreation and Culture Master Plan. You see, if we did have one, getting money from the Province would be fairly easy, for both the Lion's Club and the City of St. Albert. The Community Services people are responsible for getting the Plan ready, but by the time they do complete it, it will be TOO LATE.

The Greater St. Albert Men's Fastball Association are willing to build up the Meadowview Diamonds into something to be proud of, but that's going to cost around $40,000 of City money.

There is lots of help out there...too bad the City of St. Albert is too blind to see it.

If you agree or disagree of St. Albertans paying the shot, write to me. I'd love to know your feelings on the subject.

Maybe an idea is to have some of the sports held in Morinville or Edmonton.

Lacrosse registrations will be held February 3 and 4, and on the 10 and 11, at the Akinsdale arena, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Last year there were just two teams coming out of St. Albert, this year, the Lacrosse Association is hoping for a lot...more, this time around.

It's good to see that there will be some local representation at the Journal Indoor Games on Saturday. Relay race teams from V.J. Maloney, W.D. Cuts and Vital Grandin will be competing with a handful of other teams from the Edmonton area. These Games are going to be a real world class event, so you shouldn't miss it, especially after the excitement of the Commonwealth Games.

Till next time...

Solheim closed out the Saints scoring with his 30th of the season at 12:54 to make it 7-6 for the Fort. Achtymichuk scored into the open net with 37 seconds left in the game to give the Traders a well deserved 8-6 win and even their series with the Saints at five wins each.

Friday night at Akinsdale saw the Saints take a 2-0 first period lead on goals by Dean Dachyshyn and Robbie Burns and never looked back the rest of the game.

Rick Weist scored the Suns only goal at 12:48 of the middle period but Volcan replied at 16:11 to give Saints a two-goal cushion once again.

Troy Murray with his 24th of the year and Guy Bohmer's third in eight games put the game out of reach.

Saints outshot the Suns 36 to 29 and took nine of 16 penalties handed out by referee Doug Rayfield.

The only person not from the Legion team to win an award was Spruce Grove's Ken Hyslop, who won the "Outstanding Player" award.

The Sabres took home the runner-up trophy.

The most exciting game of the tourney was game 8, which went into overtime. Danny Chetner, with Kevin McKinstry assisting, scored for the Legion at 3:05 of the overtime period to lead his team to a 7-6 win over the Weber Realty club.

Game 5 was pretty good for excitement too, with the St. Albert Sportshop Barons and Westlock tied with just four minutes left in the game. The winning goal was scored by Boorse, with Cartmell assisting, and the Barons went on to win the game 6-3.

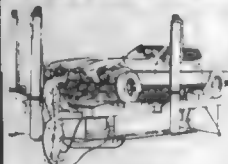

The consensus is that it was a good tournament. However, there is always room for improvements, and the organizers are looking forward to an even better tournament next year.

Bantam Sails beat Sherwood Park, trim Fort Saskatchewan

Hutchings Shoe Sails, the Grandin area club in the Bantam A house league division, met the top bantam house league clubs from both Sherwood Park and Fort Saskatchewan this past weekend, and triumphed both times.

On Saturday, Sails travelled to Josephburg for their game with the Park, and began the game with a strong first period, scoring three times while shutting out their opponents. Dean Bennett opened the scoring, assisted by Henry Koedam and Robin MacDougall. MacDougall then scored twice, assisted both times by Dave Holden. Bennett and Bruce Campbell also picked up assists.

Sherwood Park came on in the second, outscoring Sails two to one. Again, MacDougall connected for St. Albert, with Holden and Gordon Gramlich assisting.

In the final period, the teams exchanged goals. Bennett scored his second, while MacDougall collected his fifth point with an assist. Paul Beauchemin also assisted on the play. Despite their convincing win, Sails were hampered by frequent visits to the penalty box, taking eight of 12 penalties.

Sunday afternoon, Sails hosted a top club from Fort Saskatchewan and came up with one of their best games of the year, outclassing the visitors 11-3.

Although the first 15 minutes of the game featured very even play, a three goal splurge by Sails in 65 seconds seemed to turn the pattern of play around, and the balance of the game was somewhat one-sided. The three first period goals came from Paul Beauchemin, Gordon Gramlich, and Dean Bennett, with assists by Bruce Campbell, Scott Forsyth, Robin MacDougall, and two for Gerome Bruha.

Sails really exploded in the second period, scoring seven times, while allowing one by the Fort club. Bennett picked up three goals and two assists, while MacDougall got two goals and an assist. The other goals were by Forsyth and Paul Beauchemin. Glenn Steinhauer and Tom Fix were each awarded two assists, while Bruha, Holden, Campbell and Gramlich made one each. Goalie Kevin Shoults repeatedly frustrated the Fort attackers.

The visitors outscored Sails two to one in the final frame, as the St. Albert club experimented with new line mixtures. Gramlich popped the final Sails goal, assisted by Steinhauer and Paul Beauchemin.

Hutchings Shoe Sails have picked up 18 exhibition games so far this year, winning 11 and tying one. They currently stand second in their league, with a 7-4-2 record.

Barrhead harped by Angels

The CKST Angels midget B crew downed Barrhead 5-2 in league action Sunday, after skating to an 8-8 stalemate in exhibition play against Fort Saskatchewan.

The Angels opened up a 3-1 lead after one period, with Rick Oleson finding the range to give the CKST squad an early 1-0 lead over the Fort in the Thursday encounter. Doug McCarthy earned an assist on the goal. The last three minutes of the period saw three more goals, with the Fort's R. Franke evening it up at 1-1. The Angels came right back with goals from Jason Swist and Dennis O'Neill. Picking up assists for the Angels were O'Neill, Murray Pennington, McCarthy and Oleson.

The second period was all Fort Saskatchewan, as they scored four unanswered goals to lead 5-3 after two. S. McClay notched two, with singles going to V. Brandt and T. Blackburn.

Don Trembath from Oleson got the Angels to within one in the early minutes of the final frame, but the Fort's T. Schrader returned the goal with one of his own two minutes later. McCarthy made it 6-5, still in favor of the Fort, with assists going to Mike Cockrall and Joe Ainsley. A. Howald then gave the Fort another two goal lead with seven minutes remaining in the game.

O'Neill fired two goals only seconds apart to tie the contest at 7-7, and Trembath gave the Angels a one goal lead. Getting assists on the St. Albert goals were Pennington, McCarthy, Greg Collins and Mike Murphy.

A. Howald rounded out the game's scoring with 2.33 left in the game, and that was all the scoring the two clubs could muster, leaving the two teams tied at eight each.

In the league game, played at the Calahoo arena, Barrhead took a 2-0 lead after the first period with goals from Osborne and Battenfeller.

The Angels weren't too happy about that, and quickly put an end to it by scoring five unanswered markers to take the game 5-2.

Only one goal was scored in the middle frame, that coming off the stick of Oleson on the powerplay. McCarthy earned an assist for his efforts.

In the final period, McCarthy scored on a goal-mouth scramble, with Oleson and O'Neill collecting helpers. On another powerplay, McCarthy set up Oleson, who gave them the winning goal.

Before the game ended, McCarthy scored goal number two and three of the night, giving him a total of five points on the game. Oleson and Pennington assisted on the fourth goal, while O'Neill earned one on the last one.

The line of McCarthy, O'Neill and Oleson are proving to be very potent, as they collected a total of 11 points in the contest.

The game was an extremely exciting affair, featuring some good end to end hockey and some real fast action.

Pontiacs slip and slide on the road

The Ron Hodgson Pontiacs rarely have very many bad weeks in Hwy. 14 Juvenile "A" play, but they came up empty-handed in the point department in two road games over the weekend.

On Friday night, the locals ran into a red hot Leduc Stinger crew and took it on the chin to the tune of 8-4. Sherwood Park was the scene of action on Monday, and the Raiders came through with a 5-3 verdict, which pretty well sewed up a first place finish for the green and white from the Park. The Park now holds a commanding six point lead on the Pontiacs, who still have three remaining games with the league leaders.

Next action finds St. Albert hosting the Ardrossan Lions at the Perron Arena on Monday at 7:30. A week from tonight, the Pontiacs travel to Enoch for another battle with the Icemen.

STINGERS ROUGH AT HOME

Leduc Captain K. Sept fired four goals and added two assists to lead the home team to their easy win over the Pontiacs. The smooth skating Stinger winger opened the scoring midway through the first period, added a pair in the sandwich session, and ended the Leduc scoring early in the third as the Stingers held period leads of 3-2 and 6-2.

Calvin MacAulay connected for his fifth of the season and Bob Fellows continued his point-a-game pace with a goal in the opening stanza to keep St. Albert in the game in the early stage.

Keith Heyburn joined the 20-goal club early in the third, while John Provincial added another before the final buzzer. However, it was "too little too late" as the Stingers came up with their best performance of the season before the hometown fans.

RAIDERS TOUGH TOO

After a scoreless opening period, Heyburn gave the Pontiacs a short lived lead with a perfect deflection of a drive from the blueline off the stick of MacAulay. However, the goal seemed to add more "spark to the Park" as they struck for three unanswered goals before the end of the second period buzzer.

The Raiders stretched their lead to 5-1 by the midway point in the third, and seemed content to nurse the lead for the remainder of the contest.

Winkquist teamed up with linemate Colin Tooth for St. Albert's second goal, and Heyburn ended the scoring in the late stages; his 20 in the late stages; his 22nd of the season with MacAulay again assisting.

The Pontiacs picked up 10 of 19 penalties.

PONTIAC PASSES: The Sherwood Park Raiders biggest challenge in zone playdowns will likely come from Lloydminster. If the zone structure remains as in the past, the Pontiacs will have to find the solution to getting back on the winning track against Leduc. The Stingers convincing win over St. Albert on Friday was no "fluke". They have been coming on strong of late ... Rob Tooth and Colin Parayko are currently sitting out three game suspensions as a result of their "bad acting" tactics in Ardrossan a couple of weeks ago. With Brad Hancock missing, Ken Young on the injured list, and Todd Winkquist on the "limp", the Pontiacs are short-staffed to say the least. Winkquist got tired of waiting for a hospital bed for knee surgery, and gave it a gallant effort in the Park game.

However, most of the Raiders are difficult to catch with two good knees ... This might sound like someone is "crying in his beer," but the officiating in Sherwood Park doesn't seem to improve from year to year. However, the men in black and white are consistent. The trend is usually to nail the visitors for everything until the home team has a comfortable lead, and then try to even up the infractions before the final period buzzer, making it look good on paper ... Oh well, the Boston Bruins are in a bit of a slump too.

Carma's lose game and series to Spruce Grove

In their fourth and final league meeting this year, Carma's came out "really needing a win" but fell far short in a Sunday tilt at Akinsdale Arena. When the final horn sounded, the Grove had a 6-1 victory, and a three to one edge in league wins.

The visitors had everything going for them and they took advantage of every break, while the St. Albert Bantams couldn't buy anything around the Grove net, partly because of superb play by goalie Weber. Carma's penalties didn't help the cause either. They sat out 20 minutes, compared with 10 for Spruce Grove, in a game where tight officiating resulted in excellent control and an absence of the chippy play seen in earlier games.

Spruce Grove held the edge in play in the first period and came away with a 1-0 lead by converting a loose rebound. In the second, Carma's started well but two consecutive penalties resulted in two Grove goals. With a 3-0 lead, the visitors maintained momentum with a strong attack and clicked on two more, while Carma's collected their only goal with a strange deflection from behind the net by Billy McNamara.

Neither team performed really well in the third period, although St. Albert came close a few times. Spruce Grove managed to pot one counter, to end the scoring at 6-1.

Nu-West Canadians squash Leduc Elks

Saturday evening the Nu-West Canadians played the Leduc Elks for the last time in regular season play, and came away with an 18-1 win. As the score indicated, it was a one-sided affair. The Canadians produced some picturesque passing plays and many fine individual performances were seen. All players except the goalies participated in the scoring.

Scott Neil, who played the entire game in goal, came up with a fine performance when called upon (which was not too often).

Emanuel Viveiros, the league's top scorer, led the pack with five goals and four assists. Todd Carnelley came right behind with a four goal and two assist effort. Dean Bosch had a productive evening with three goals. Ole Graversen and Steven Gosse both came out of the game with two goals and one assist. Dave Findlay had his hard-work rewarded with one goal and two assists. Kent Lefebvre capitalized once when he tipped in a good pass across the goalmouth.

night and earned three assists. Todd Ewen, who played with a cast on his hand, got two assists through fast skating and hard work. Bobby Havens and Ron Couture both played good games and each earned one assist.

Jimmy Hammett, who is sidelined with a pulled hamstring, Fraser Watt and Scott Rusnak could not make the game. Brent Sedgewick had the bye as the backup goaltender and enjoyed the game from the bench.

A total of 12 minor penalties were handed out, five to the Canadians and seven to the Elks.

Leduc's lone goal was scored by M. Martin assisted by S. Sulz and D. Achtenberg.

Morinville IGA's outhandle Westlock

The Morinville IGA bantams enjoyed sweet success over the past week, beating Westlock in a home and away series, and clobbering Legal in an exhibition encounter.

Two weeks ago, the IGA squad was on the short end of a 7-2 count against Spruce Grove. The game, played January 19, saw Morinville get goals from Dave Kegler and Dwight Van Brabant. Paul Schafers and Michael Riopel earned assists on the Tegler goal.

On Tuesday of last week, Morinville travelled to Legal for an exhibition game, handing the hometown team a 10-3 clubbing.

Last Saturday in Westlock, IGA outscored Westlock 11-5. Top marksman for Morinville was Brent Lewis with four goals, while Van Brabant checked for a hat trick. Riopel, Schafers, Chris Bokenfohr and Andy Boissonnault each picked up a single goal.

Sunday, the Westlock club was in Morinville for the return engagement, but couldn't overcome the Morinville power, as they were downed once again by a 10-2 score.

Westlock got on the scoreboard first, but it wasn't for long, as Schafers fired a goal midway through the first period with Lewis getting an assist. Morinville went into the dressing room after one with a 3-1 lead. Other first period scorers were Jim Turner from Schafers, and Bokenfohr from Schafers and Lewis.

Morinville took complete control of the second frame, piling four unanswered goals into the net. Goalscorers were Boissonnault, Bokenfohr, Marshall Lalonde and Lewis. Van Brabant collected two assists, with others going to Bokenfohr, Riopel and Murray Johnson.

Westlock opened up the last period scoring to make it 7-2, but Bokenfohr, Boissonnault and Van Brabant put the game way out of reach. Also getting assists were Van Brabant, Lalonde and Riopel.

A total of 14 penalties were handed out, with Morinville taking five minors, while Westlock received six minors and three misconducts.

Shavers win and lose on weekend

On January 27 and 28 the Shaver "A" Dairy Queen Crusaders travelled out of town to play two exhibition games. Saturday, in Legal, St. Albert came up against a fired-up Spruce Grove team who went on to beat our Shavers 6-4. The goalscorers for St. Albert were Albert Laplante with two, Wesley Webber and Loni Kowalchuk with one each. Willie Falling also played a strong game in goal and without his efforts, the score would have been much higher.

The next day, however, was a different story as St. Albert played a much better defensive game and went on to beat Fultonvale's "Green Machine" 3-1 in a very exciting game. Scoring for the Dairy Queen were Wesley Webber with two and Trevor Robertson with the single. An honorable mention should also be given to St. Albert's goalie Jamie McLennan, who was outstanding in the nets and who lost his shutout bid with only five seconds remaining.

The Dairy Queen Shaver A team so far this season has played 24 games and have posted a record of 19 wins, 3 losses and 2 ties. The Crusaders also remain undefeated in league play.

The next league games, in the Shaver A division, are on February 4 at 6 a.m. when the Breakfast Club Lions play the Shell Tankers and then at 7:15 the Dairy Queen Crusaders meet the Cougars. Both games are at Akinsdale Arena.

So if you aren't doing anything this Sunday morning and would like to watch at times humorous but always entertaining hockey, then please come out and support our Shavers.

After all, Minor Hockey is where it's at!

Saints win one and lose one

IT'S OUR TURN

Don Waters (right) and Danny McClain, represented St. Albert on the Edmonton area lacrosse team that played in the Commonwealth Games last summer. The Edmonton team, called the "Spirit of 78" went down to Saskatoon as well, winning the Silver Stick Tournament. Don and Danny will keep the trophy they won from the tourney for a week each, and then it will be on display at RMC Sports Center for two weeks before it is rotated to other players on the team.

In weekend Pee wee BB action RMC Saints defeated Barrhead 11-3 in league play and were dropped 4-0 by Sherwood Park in an exhibition encounter.

RMC BOUNCE BARRHEAD

On Saturday in St. Albert the Saints jumped on the Barrhead team for an 11-3 victory to go along with earlier 9-6 and 11-1 victories in league play. The Saints will have to win once more in Barrhead to go undefeated in league play against them. This means a lot to the Saints as Barrhead is the team they must beat out for the final playoff berth in the Sturgeon Pembina BB League.

TODD SHAW
Gives clutch goaltending

The Saints blasted six first period goals on Saturday and then coasted to their win.

Todd Shaw in the St. Albert nets shutout Barrhead for two periods before they were able to blink the red light.

The Saints led 8-0 after two periods and then played even with Barrhead in the third period. Barrhead and St. Albert both scored three goals in the third with the final count ending 11-3 in favour of the Saints. St. Albert outshot the Barrhead club 51-30 and had the edge throughout the game.

MIKE HOLZER
5 point night for RMC

Big guns in the scoring department for the Saints were Brent Webber and Mike Holzer who each notched hat tricks. Singles went to Greg Amyotte,

BRENT WEBBER

Darryl Ethier, Eric Olsen, Stan Black and Don Bremault. Wilf Keiser led the way in the assist column with three helpers while Amyotte, Holzer, Alpaugh and Trembath had two each. Single assists went to Brent Webber, Tim Korz and Don Bremault.

PARK BLANKS RMC

On Sunday the Saints journeyed to the Park for an exhibition encounter and came away 4-0 losers. The Park jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead and never looked back. The two teams played a scoreless second period and the Park added a goal late in the game to wrap up the win. Although the Saints lost the game there were a few bright lights during the game for the Saints. Goaltenders Todd Shaw and Todd Cunningham combined to block 30 of the 34 shots fired their way. Mike Holzer was robbed on four or five chances. Billy Mitchell and Tim Korz also had some golden scoring opportunities.

The Saints now rest until next Thursday evening when they travel to Spruce Grove to take on the league leaders.

Lacrosse represented in Summer Games

The St. Albert Lacrosse Association is pleased to announce that lacrosse will be represented in the Alberta Summer Games to be held in St. Albert in August.

Terry Baller of the St. Albert Lacrosse Association will assume the sports championship and will have the responsibility of guiding St. Albert's involvement in lacrosse.

Mr. Baller announced at a recent association meeting that the format of lacrosse involvement will be a bantam tournament with representation of lacrosse teams from around the province. Although there is no guarantee of a St. Albert team participating in the Games, it is hoped that the strong lacrosse program to be run in St. Albert this year will provide zone representation for a St. Albert bantam team.

By the way, a lacrosse registration and information desk will be set up on February 3, 4, 10, 11 at the Akinsdale Arena from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at which time registration will be accepted for our novice, pee wee, bantam and midget programs.

Gibbons Mites win in Minor Hockey week

The Gibbons Mite A's won the Minor Hockey Week tournament on the weekend. Gibbons beat Legal and Westlock by identical 3-0 scores, then clobbered Bon Accord 9-3. In a close game against Morinville, Gibbons came out on top 2-1.

In the final game against Westlock, Gibbons outlasted the opposition 7-1.

A fine effort was given by the Gibbons team, going undefeated throughout the play. Winning team members are: Lance Sidor, Bret Walter, Dana Nault, Greg Sharrun, Robbie McNyk, Conrad Hughson, Bob Heidt, Jay Davie, Doug Beile, Jason Christie and Brian Rocque with Ken Sharrun behind the bench.

All games were played in the Morinville arena, and all players and coaches co-operated with the no-hit trial tourney. When the championship was won it was unfortunate that the trophy was not on hand for a presentation.

As for the new no-hit ruling, Gibbons coach Ken Sharrun feels the onus is on the coaches and qualified referees to control body checking and not to eliminate it. He points out that "after all, hockey is a body contact sport and if controlled properly, is preparing the boys for more advanced hockey year to year." He feels that there may be more injuries due to increased stickwork with no body checking, and this is where injuries occur.

RARIN' TO GO
Cross country ski enthusiasts were out at Lacombe Park Saturday picking up a few pointers from an instructor provided by the St. Albert Nordic Ski Club. The clinic was sponsored by the City.

Hercules to hold soccer meeting

The Hercules Sports Association will be holding a soccer meeting on Thursday, February 1, at the Akinsdale Subhouse.

The purpose of the meeting is to get interested people together who would like to become involved in the soccer program, either as coaches, assistant coaches or referees. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. sharp.

Olympian Swim Club number one

The Olympian Swim Club won the over-all point race at the Vancouver Pacific Age-Group Sprint meet last weekend.

Don Packer's club nosed out Hyack Swim Club of New Westminster 329-323 in a close race. Swimmers from Edmonton Keyano, Seattle, Tacoma, Regina and various clubs in British Columbia took part in the two-day meet at Percy Norman Pool.

The Olympians set one Canadian record in the girls 13 x 14 4 x 100 medley relay, churning to a clocking of 4:38.8, breaking the old standard by 2/10th of a second.

Two individual Olympian swimmers - Jennifer McDonald and Ralph Vandomelaar both 12 were #1 in the 11-12 age group. The highlight for the club came in the 200 freestyle in which they swept the top three places in boys and girls 11 - 12 and girls 13 - 14 categories.

Mr. G. Packer took the 18 kids to Vancouver, which included swimmers from the St. Albert branch of the Swim Club.

St. Albert: we are the racquetball capital of Canada

By Marty O'Kell

A few months ago, the Edmonton Journal ran a story that said Edmonton had become the "racquetball capital of Canada." True at the time, the claim will go down the drain shortly.

St. Albert will become the "capital".

The sport of racquetball has blossomed and boomed and grown rapidly in the past two years, and the "rage" has caught on in St. Albert. Our city now has four courts in the city-owned and operated Fountain Park Recreation Centre, and there are two private clubs that will open up in the near future.

When the clubs open, there will be a total of 16 racquetball courts and two squash courts. (If one was to estimate our population at 30,000 people the ratio of people to courts will be 1,660 to every court. In Edmonton, even if they did have 100 courts, which they don't yet, the ratio would be about 5,000 people to every court.

See what I mean? ... ST. ALBERT is the racquetball capital of Canada.

I play the game, other people I work with play, my friends play, teachers play, business people play, radio personalities play, football players play ... it seems that almost everyone plays racquetball.

Yes, this sport is mushrooming alright.

So it's about time that you and I took a look at racquetball in St. Albert.

As mentioned above, there are the Fountain Park courts, plus the two private membership clubs that will open its doors soon.

Don't get confused. There are two clubs, and not related as some people have been thinking. One is called the St. Albert Fitness and Court Club, that's the one across from the Perron arena, and there is the St. Albert Racquet Club, located on Riel Drive.

Read on ... and find out about the NEW "racquetball capital of Canada."

FOUNTAIN PARK RECREATION CENTER

St. Albert's first taste of racquet courts came with the opening of the city-owned Fountain Park Recreation Center on Cunningham Road. The center includes a 25 metre indoor pool, spacious locker rooms for the pool, and a sauna in each dressing room.

The center has four courts, with one of them capable of being easily converted to International squash dimensions. This conversion takes about half a minute. All are regulation size racquetball courts.

The center is run by Brian Sullivan, who before coming to St. Albert was an aquatics supervisor with the City of Edmonton for about one year. Prior to that, Brian was the assistant manager of the Eastglen Pool.

Brian told me that he hasn't had any experience directly with courts, but they require little maintenance which makes his job not too difficult when it comes to looking after the courts.

As for the use they're getting, Brian says he's "not surprised that it's such a big hit." He says that from Monday through Wednesday, the courts are booked about 85 to 90 percent of the time. The only open slots are in the late morning and mid afternoon. But Thursday through Sunday, the courts are used 100 percent of the time. A big hit for sure.

These figures became fact shortly after Christmas, and Brian attributes the small jump to almost 100 percent use to the theory that many people received, as Christmas gifts, racquetball racquets.

He also adds that Fountain

Park is doing the two clubs that will be opening soon a big favor by introducing many people to the sport of racquetball. Many of these people will be taking to the private clubs, which will leave a void in use at Fountain Park. This void should be very temporary, as the sport is mushrooming at great proportions. Probably two weeks after the private clubs open, the percentage of use at Fountain Park will rise to the 100 percent mark.

The time slots at F.P. are longer than most racquet institutions, being one full hour compared to most club's 45 minutes. The cost for the hour is five dollars. The only exception is the two to three o'clock slot, where the playing time is cut down to 45 minutes. The reason for this is that between 2 and 2:15, the courts go through a minor cleaning. The charge for this time slot is a discounted rate of four dollars. The courts are also cleaned at the end of the day. Other court maintenance includes the re-surfacing of the floors, which is supposed to be done twice a year. Brian foresees this happening sometime this summer, when the good weather will drop the court use.

The front walls of the courts at Fountain Park are presently suffering from paint peeling. This problem will be rectified this summer as well ... luckily, the courts are still under warranty.

For the future, there will be some minor changes, plus some additions of services to racquetballers and squashers.

First of all, in the dressing rooms, there will be a sauna installed, although this is a LOW PRIORITY item in the budget. Brian feels the saunas are at least a year away from construction.

At the end of the hallway where the players enter the courts, there is a meeting

IT'S MINE . . . NO, IT'S MINE

Kevin Laliberte and John Kirsch volley back and forth in a grueling game of racquetball. These two youngsters are a good sign of the growing popularity of the sport.

room. This room is presently used for meetings (what else) and babysitting. In the future, probably this summer, there will be some light exercise equipment put in. Brian is not sure exactly what types of equipment will go in there, as this will depend on the budget. There is a possibility, however, that a Universal Gym could be in the picture. This equipment, whatever it may be, will have to be portable enough to move it to the side of the room so meetings can still be held in it.

Another addition to the services already provided will be a "pro shop." This shop won't really be a shop, but rather a glass shelf unit behind the main counter. Among the items to be sold will be racquetballs, eye protectors, laces, tube socks, gloves, shampoo, plus a few other small items. There will also be the sale of a few swimming items, such as goggles and nose plugs. There are plans to rent racquets, but no plans for the sale of racquets, as the city doesn't want to get involved in the retail market.

If enough interest is shown, and there has been some shown already, there will be some racquetball instruction. There is a good chance this will begin in March or April.

The booking procedure is such that in-person bookings will be taken at any time up to three days away. That is, if you want to book for Friday, the earliest you are allowed to book is Tuesday. By the telephone, bookings will only be taken between the hours of 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. It is getting quite difficult to book a court by phone, except if you want a mid-day time slot. Most people now are coming in to the center in person early in the mornings to book a court. Brian noted that there may be some changes in the booking procedures, but there just may not be. He added that once people get used to a booking system, they adapt to it so they get the court time they want, even if it means coming in a little earlier.

One last subject about the Fountain Park Rec. Center is the concession area. At the end of the spectators hallway just above the courts, there is a concession room, with a small snack bar. There you can enjoy a coffee, a soft drink, salad, soup, sandwich or chocolate bar, and sit down and put your feet up after a grueling session of racquetball or squash. According to Brian, not very many people know that it's there, as it's not used that heavily. The snack bar is open from 10 a.m. till 10 p.m.

If you're not into one of these sports yet, Fountain Park is a good place to find out if the game is for you, or games, if you would like to try both.

ST. ALBERT FITNESS AND COURT CLUB

The St. Albert Fitness and Court Club, under dance school entrepreneurs Alma Hughes and Gladys Smith, plans to open April 1.

The court portion of the building, (the building is located across from the Perron arena), will have a total of six courts, five for racquetball/handball, and one for international squash. One of the courts will be available and marked for three a side volleyball.

In the fitness area, there will be some exercise bikes and rowing machines, but the big feature of the room will be a 16 station Universal gym. The gym, which is like the one at the Nautilus center in Edmonton, is capable of taking on 16 people at once, providing a balanced fitness program for almost anyone willing to improve themselves physically.

The center will include a whirlpool, mixed sauna, showers and mens and womens locker rooms.

The fully equipped pro shop will handle the sale and rental of racquets, racquetballs, eye protection gear, socks, T-shirts, shorts, and anything required to play racquetball.

Initial plans call for eye protection to be optional, but it could become mandatory in the near future.

Even though the Court Club is owned and operated by the St. Albert School of Dance, and the dance school is under the same roof, the Fitness and Court club is totally separate from the school.

One exception would be the fact that from the exercise room, one can enter the adjacent double dance studio. The wall of the studio can be opened so that the room's would become one room 40 by 80 feet long. The perimeter of this room is to be carpeted for jogging, a feature requested by some interested jogging types after the initial plans were made.

According to Alma and Gladys, there has been some concern from interested people as to whether the kids from the dance school will be allowed to frequent the Fitness and Court Club. The answer to this is a big "NO". They exclaim that there is absolutely no way members of the club will see dance students running around the members and members only. The jogging track, which is in the dance school section, will only be used as a track when there are no dance students in the building. The track will basically be open only when asked for and only in the daytime, because the students from the dance school will be in session from late afternoon on.

Gladys and Alma got into the court business almost by accident. It all started over four years ago when they decided to build a dance school building. Brian Graham, of B.J. Graham Contracting of St. Albert, was approached to build the structure (on St. Anne Street). Mr. Graham's company did build it, but he also mentioned to Gladys and Alma that they should throw in some racquetball courts into the plans. Four years ago, the sport was an unknown in these parts, and the ladies nixed the idea.

The St. Albert School of Dancing eventually outgrew their building, and Gladys and Alma decided that they should build a bigger one. So off they went on a hunt of some land. The lot across from the Perron arena caught their eye, and they talked to the owners, The City of St. Albert. The city said they would have to buy the whole lot, which was a trifle too big for the dance school they wanted to build. They (the girls) went to Mr. Graham to see if he would build their new building, wherever it would be. Brian again suggested that they should put in some courts, this way, they could fill up the lot they were looking at. The rest is history. The structure has been under construction for some time now, and various delays have pushed back the opening date from last fall to April 1 of this year.

Editor's Note: As it turned out, B.J. Graham Contracting aren't involved in the construction of the club.

Features included in the building will be a mezzanine overlooking the courts. The mezz will have a lounge (not alcoholic ... sorry) for the consumption of snacks and soft drinks that will be dispensed from vending machines. It should also prove to be a good place for relaxing.

There will be air conditioning throughout, and ample private parking on the front and side of the building.

There will be two types of membership. One will be the full membership, for those who wish to partake in racquetball, handball or squash, plus use the exercise equipment.

The second type will be the "fitness" membership, for those who just want to use the exercise room and jogging track.

Time slots for the courts will be 45 minutes, and members who would like to bring a guest to the club for a game of racquetball/handball or squash will have to pay an additional five dollars per time slot. (This is to prevent abuse of membership fees).

ST. ALBERT RACQUET CLUB

The St. Albert Racquet Club is owned by realtors Ian MacDougall and Peter Firth. Ian is a resident of our city, while Peter is a former resident, now living in Edmonton.

To this date, Ian has never played one of the indoor racquet sports, but Peter is an avid racquetballer.

And that is where the idea of a racquet club began.

Peter was having tremendous difficulty booking a court in Edmonton, and entered his office one day angry at the prospects of finding one. Off the top of his head he exclaimed "I should build a club." Ian and Peter thought for a moment and decided "who not!"

They began the groundwork, arranging a land deal and all the particulars that go along with building a club, or anything for that matter.

St. Albert was a logical site, being residents at the time. They go their hands on a piece of property on Riel Drive, and now that is history, as they hope to open up the club sometime in March.

The St. Albert Racquet Club will have a total of eight courts. Six will be for racquetball, and one for International squash. The eighth was going to be for American squash, but Peter and Ian are going to wait and see what kind of a demand there is for the game of squash. If there isn't a demand, they will have it made for racquetball. So for a little while, the eighth court will sit idle, and probably be used as a sitting lounge for the time being.

There will be a fully equipped health and exercise room, with a Universal Gym the highlight.

The pro shop will include all the items needed for playing the court games, and there may be rentals of items besides racquets and balls.

Each mens and ladies locker room will contain a dry air sauna.

After a game, a member can sit and relax in the lounge, while watching the large screen video beam television on the wall. Or watch someone else play racquetball from above. Snack and lunch facilities will offer dietary, as well as regular beverage and food services from vending machines in the lounge areas.

For those who have children, there will be a free, supervised daytime nursery, that will operate from 9 a.m. till noon, and 2 p.m. till 4:30 p.m. weekdays only. This Please Turn to Page 37

AN UPSETTING EXPERIENCE

Community sponsored snowmobiles at North-Am

The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will benefit from a unique sponsorship arrangement at the 10th Annual North-Am International Snowmobile Races in Wetaskiwin.

North-Am Chairman Bert Taylor announced that one-quarter of the $50 entry fees of community-sponsored snowmobiles in the February 17 and 18 races will go to the Society.

Thirty-one communities, including the City of St. Albert have been invited to participate.

Each sponsored snowmobile will carry the name of the sponsoring town or city. The eight participants in this special program last year were the cities of Edmonton, Wetaskiwin, Camrose and Red Deer, and the towns of Westlock, Spruce Grove and Leduc. The Mighty Peace Tourist Association sponsored an entry on behalf of communities in the Peace River country.

Two community-sponsored machines captured events in the 1978 North-Am. Anthony Tomcy, backed by the Town of Westlock, grabbed the Stock "C" class. Glen Fox, representing the City of Wetaskiwin, won the Modified Stock 1 event.

The benefitting charity last year was the Canadian Kidney Foundation.

Mr. Taylor noted that if a community-sponsored snowmobile wins an event, the North-Am committee will donate an additional $50 to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

He said the community

sponsorship idea is designed to involve other towns and cities in "one of North America's premier winter sporting events."

Last year, the North-Am races attracted 288 entries, with more than $13,000 in prize money and trophies.

Communities invited this year are Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Grande Prairie, Ponoka, Rocky Mountain House, Spruce Grove, Grande Cache, Drayton Valley, Edson, Leduc, St. Albert, Barrhead, Lacombe, Olds, Peace River, Provost, St. Paul, Vegreville, Westlock, Camrose, Drumheller, Wetaskiwin, Fort McMurray, Fort Saskatchewan, Vermilion, Lloydminster, Hobbema, Devon, Hinton and Sylvan Lake.

In the past eight years, "community contestants" have been entered by Edmonton, Camrose, Wetaskiwin, Red Deer, Westlock, Spruce Grove, Leduc, Hobbema, Lloydminster, Vermilion, Grande Cache, Olds, Vegreville, Grande Prairie, St. Albert, Drumheller, Rocky Mountain House, Barrhead, Provost, Drayton Valley, Fort McMurray and the Mighty Peace Tourist Association.

Oilers move into fourth place in W.H.A.

Edmonton Oilers, behind the shutout goaltending performance of Dave Dryden, blanked the Cincinnati Stingers 3-0 Sunday night at the Coliseum.

DAVE DRYDEN

The win moved the Oilers into fourth spot, one ahead of the Stingers who have played seven more games than the Oilers, and only two points behind New England Whalers and Winnipeg Jets who are tied in second spot.

Oilers have games in hand on all clubs, although they don't count on the scoreboard unless you win them.

Oilers got on the score-sheet at 6:42 of the second period on Stan Weir's powerplay goal with young Mark Messier sitting out a hooking call.

Rookie sensation Wayne Gretzky scored his 24th of the season, also on the powerplay at 7:03 of the third period with Peter Marsh off on a unsportsmanlike conduct infraction.

Ron Chipperfield scored his 15th of the season into an empty net at 19:29 of the third to put the game out of reach.

Dryden kicked out 26 Stinger shots to record his second shutout of the year.

Friday night the Stingers celebrated Gretzky's 18th birthday more than the Oilers did as they scored a 5-2 win, with Robbie Ftorek getting the hat trick.

Tonight's game from Winnipeg will be televised live by C.F.R.N.

Oilers next home game will be February 6 against the Birmingham Bulls and the following night will play the Stingers.

racquet-ball

free service is for members only, as non-members must pay a small fee.

The club will have ample on-site parking, plus bicycle racks. Air conditioning throughout will keep the club at a constant temperature year round.

Sports instruction will be provided free of charge to membership groups upon pre-arrangement. Groups of six or less will have to pay a small charge.

Peter and Ian are very interested in having club tournaments, and possibly inter-club tourneys, with the other St. Albert Club. They would also like to see a national champion come out of St. Albert, and are prepared to take the time to organize and promote enough competitions so that their dream of a local champion would come true. Beating some Edmonton clubs would sit right with them too.

Time slots will be 45 minutes each, and non-members will have to fork over either four or five dollars per session when playing with a member. (Five dollars in prime time, four in non prime time).

EDITOR'S NOTE:

I haven't mentioned any fees for the memberships, you can find out yourself. You'll have to choose your own club.

Wheat Board orders 2,000 hopper cars

The Canadian Wheat Board announced last week it has placed orders for the manufacture of 2,000 steel hopper cars. All of the cars will have a carrying capacity of 100 tons.

Cost of the cars, at current price levels, would be just under $41,000 per car for a total of nearly $82 million for the entire purchase. However, with possible cost increases for such items as materials and labor, provided for in the purchase contracts, the final cost may rise to an average of $44,800 per car or an estimated $89.6 million by the time construction is completed.

With the current cycle time of 19 trips per car per year, the additional 2,000 hopper cars will be capable of transporting over three million tons of grain into export position annually. At current price levels for grain, this would result in additional sales earnings of over $450 million for western grain farmers each year.

The Wheat Board stated that the potential loss in sales compared to the annual cost for the cars strongly favoured the Board's decision to proceed with the purchase. At the Board's current borrowing rate of 11 1/4 percent interest and depreciation costs, based on a write-off period of 30 years, costs to producers would amount to approximately $13.5 million in the first year and reducing thereafter.

Based on producer deliveries to the Board in the last five crop years, this works out to an average of 1.75 cents per bushel.

Other methods of financing will be examined to determine if there is a more economical way of financing the purchase. Methods to assess a proper proportion of the cost against the movement of non-Board grains are also being studied.

Delivery of the cars will begin in September, 1979, and be completed in February, 1980. At peak delivery towards the end of the construction period, the flow of completed cars from the three firms is expected to be at a rate of 28 cars per day.

The decision to buy 100 ton steel cars is based on recommendations received from Canadian National. In its letter to the Board on January 10, Canadian National said the carrying capacity relative to purchase cost definitely favoured purchase of the 100-ton steel car. Price quotations for 100-ton aluminum cars were from $15,000 to $16,000 higher than those for steel cars of the same size.

Bid for improvement at Redwater School lost

Trustee Ruth Wall made a motion at the last meeting of the Sturgeon School Board to have home economics and industrial education included in the Statement of Need for the Redwater School. This motion was defeated following a lengthy discussion by the Board. Opposed to the motion were Trustees Porsild, Hood and Ward.

The main objection to the motion was the high cost for courses of this nature. Chairman Hole suggested that there might be more economic courses that could be looked at for Redwater.

Keith Everitt was also concerned with the expense, but pointed out that Redwater School has nothing going for it compared to Sturgeon Composite.

The courses would cost the Board $300,000, of unsupported debt and the success of the courses depend entirely on student enrollment which is speculated to be very low at best.

Trustee Ward in opposing the motion commented that he wasn't saying that there was no need, but he could not justify the cost.

P.C. candidate Fyfe visits MD Council

Progressive Conservative candidate for the upcoming provincial election, Myrna Fyfe of St. Albert, met with the MD council last Thursday. Myrna explained that while she was not an elected official, she wanted to be introduced to members of the MD council and glean some idea of their concerns provincially. Mrs. Fyfe was accompanied by Past President of the St. Albert Progressive Conservative Association, Neil Flynn.

Reeve Flynn commented that council could probably "dig up" a few problems. He mentioned that the MD is interested in acquiring the go ahead for an auxiliary hospital. Mr. Flynn told Mrs. Fyfe that the MD had the land set aside and were waiting provincial approval.

Councillor Kluthe asked Mrs. Fyfe what her position will be on annexations. Myrna replied that each would have to be considered in their own light and with a look at the recommendations made by the LAB.

Other subjects discussed included the County of Thorhild annexation, the Redwater Hospital Board, and roads.

Mrs. Fyfe commented that roads seem to be the major complaint of many people in the MD. Council would like all secondaries paved within a 30 mile radius of Edmonton.

Reeve Flynn pointed out to Mrs. Fyfe that the County of Thorhild has received all the benefits from the annexation of some of their area to the MD. It is not that he thinks that they are not entitled to what they have received, but it is the council's concern that they too should receive something. He remarked that the MD has not received any of the taxes for the area for the time period under MD jurisdiction, nor any of the forthcoming provincial grants.

In closing Mrs. Fyfe told council that she didn't want to get involved with local government issues, but wanted to keep an overview of all the problems of the St. Albert Constituency.

Student conduct policy passed by Board

Trustee Jim Ward remarked that the Student Conduct Policy and Regulations was very well done and moved the approval of the paper. Except for one amendment, the paper was approved as presented with Joyce Porsild against, by the Sturgeon School Board.

Trustee Joyce Porsild thought that the policy should include that the school principal phone parents of students that have been strapped. Mrs. Porsild was against the strap, but felt that if it was used the parents should be informed.

Superintendent Robinson summed up many of the trustees' feelings on the matter of strapping when he said, "I don't think it is an effective deterrent to modify student behaviour."

John MacDonell was the only trustee who spoke out in favor of the strap. Trustee Wall was not totally against corporal punishment.

Keith Everitt supplied the Board with a short story about his earlier years in school, when he was punished for a deed which Trustee Everitt felt warranted the strap.

The point that was amended dealt with suspended students riding on buses. They will not be allowed to ride on school buses, while they are suspended, and the school will inform their parents as well as the bus driver when a student has been suspended.

MD Council bored by Horizon 21

The Horizon 21 group made a presentation to the MD Council on Thursday pertaining to the future growth of Edmonton. Horizon 21 was set up by the City of Edmonton and is making presentations to all surrounding municipalities.

The presentation took less than an hour of council's time, compared with the two hours they spent with St. Albert City Council, it may

The council had only a couple of questions. Judging from their lack of reaction, it seems they didn't learn anything new from the presentation. Perhaps the fact that it was 4:30 had something to do with it.

Reeve Flynn questioned the co-operation the city now wanted from the municipality, when in the past the municipality has had little co-operation from the City of Edmonton. Mr. Ackroyd representing Horizon 21 replied that it was a new approach by the City of Edmonton.

Sturgeon Composite to try split noon hour

Mr. B. MacDonald, principal of the Sturgeon Composite High School, met with the Board of Sturgeon School Division last Wednesday to enlighten the trustees on his proposal for split noon hours.

His concern was that only 144 students can fit into the present cafeteria at one time and with the proposed population increase the situation can only become worse. Mr. MacDonald pointed out that with the split noon hour, there would be less overflow and supervision would be easier and more effective. He thought that it would also cut down on the incidents of vandalism.

Chairman Lois Hole commented that other large businesses often have instituted the split noon hour idea, because building a larger cafeteria is often impracticable.

Trustee Keith Everitt suggested that private enterprise could play an important role in alleviating some of the noon hour pressure.

Mr. MacDonald told the Board that last year the students were largely against the proposal, but this year a trend has been shown by the students that they would be willing to try it. The principal said that the institution of the split noon hour would be mainly for the benefit of the students only.

After discussing the many pros and cons of such a scheme, Joyce Porsild moved for the approval of the split noon hour on a trial basis and the Board re-evaluate the situation prior to the spring break. The motion was carried.

Alberta Womens' Institute District 11 conference

By Liz McLeod

The annual District 11 conference and workshop was held at the Grey Nuns Centre in Edmonton, on January 17 and 18. Ninety-two ladies registered for this pleasant educational experience. Mrs. A. C. Kritzing, District 11 director from Stony Plain was at the helm.

At 1:15 p.m. the meeting was called to order. After singing "O' Canada" we repeated the Creed and observed a minute's silence for our departed members.

Following introductions, Aileen introduced her workshop speaker, Dr. Sue Thierrien, who has a Doctorate in "Child Development and Education" and is a teacher at the University of Alberta Department of Elementary Education.

Sue asked the group a number of questions and discussed the International Year of the Child.

Following Dr. Thierrien's initial presentation it was time for the mid-morning break. After the break, Dr. Thierrien lectured on the life of a child from birth to age 13.

A question period followed the interesting presentation and many problems and concerns were discussed. Mrs. Margaret Hunt then gave a vote of thanks to Sue for her detailed analysis.

We all adjourned for the afternoon at this point and some took to the pool to refresh themselves before supper.

At 7:30 p.m. we again gathered in the auditorium for a slide presentation on the Multi-Cultural Heritage Centre in Stony Plain, which opened in 1974. Program co-ordinator, Henrietta Furler did a fabulous job of explaining each slide.

Mrs. Edith Gunn of Irma, Alberta thanked Henrietta for the slide show. Then we were treated to a wine and cheese party instead of the traditional lunch. It was wonderful to renew acquaintances with so many nice folks throughout District 11.

On Thursday the conference continued. With the broad scope of W.I. interests there is never a dull moment. There are many topics through which members can gain more knowledge. In turn, they can help in their respective neighbourhoods and communities with this information.

The next item on the agenda was the Convenor's Corner. They pointed out that the average age of the W.I. keeps creeping up each year and there is a need for younger members. They also brought out a number of other very interesting points.

The Pennies for Friendship March netted $90.25 and the executive were overwhelmed with the response this year.

This interesting hour with the Convenors passed by quickly and after the march it was time for a lunch break, following which we had the pleasure of listening to the keynote speaker of the day.

Mrs. Jean Forest, first ever, woman chancellor of the University of Alberta, spoke on "Human Rights in Alberta."

Mrs. Forest is the mother of seven children, grandmother to three (soon a fourth) and is a warm, friendly and concerned lady.

Because our Federated Women's Institute president had business to attend to in Edmonton, she couldn't resist dropping in to this morning's session. When Aileen had the opportunity, she introduced Mrs. Martha P. Billish. Everyone was delighted to see their national president and good friend, that she was given a standing ovation.

We were happy to hear that the Landrover for Lesotho has been received and now it is up to all branches and members in Alberta, to send in their donations to this worthy cause.

The next project which requires fund raising will be, to restore the Adelaide Hoodless Homestead and build an addition on to it. After listening to these most interesting and pleasant personalities, it was time to break for lunch. When we resumed at 1:30 p.m., the roll call of the branches was encouraging, as only two branches were absent.

Kaye Rowbottom was then called to take the chair, and was put on the hot seat, having to explain many questions from the floor. Kaye also gave her A.W.I. report.

She was pleased to inform District 11 that they have gained 22 new members since she took office last June.

The two-day conference was declared adjourned at precisely 3 p.m., giving travellers time to catch their various mode of travel home.

It was a rewarding experience for all who attended, renewing acquaintances and being able to look forward to the next convention.

It is hoped that these delegates will go back into their communities and make use of the wealth of information gained at this conference.

Happy Trails to You.

Adventures of ice fishing

By Margarette J. Atkinson

It seems a cold sort of thing to do making a hole in the thick ice, of a lake and standing there with a line down, waiting for a bite. However, there's a lot of adventure in ice fishing.

While fishing at Long Lake suddenly my husband Albert looked across the snowdrifts, which covered the ice, toward the forest on the other shore ...

"How on earth can a white Kleenex or piece of paper, come over those snowdrifts? ... especially when there's no wind?"

Soon he noticed, "that the white thing was a weasel, not a tissue!" At this point Albert had three good sized perch, lying on the ice, near his feet.

As he stood very still and quiet Mr. Weasel grabbed hold of a fish ... changed his mind. Then ... picking out the largest fish, proceeded to drag it the way he had come from the forest. Such a load it was for a tiny creature. Away went that fish, over the drifts and soon was out of sight. The little creature could really move. After watching the animal disappear, Albert cleaned several fish, placing them under the cabin to freeze. Soon, he heard a dragging sound. There was a lovely Wild Mink, pulling a great big jack-fish away for a tasty dinner.

I've seen a coyote, come right out and take a big pickerel I had caught and placed on the ice near the hole. He just needed to eat and what better way than that?

Ice fishing holds an

"aura" of beauty too. One gets to see the changing of a wintry sky. The whiteness of snow on the ice seems to be a continuation of whiteness into the sky on overcast days.

As afternoon fades into twilight, a soft pinkness, turns into a soft mauve, then into the deeper blue of oncoming evening shadows, bringing a longing to be home once again. Ice fishing truly is an adventure.

The cow who was boss

By Margarette Atkinson

I never underestimate the complacency of our bovine friends, those four legged milk factories.

Is there any animal more contented looking, as she chews her cud, while gazing at you with those "fawn-like" eyes?

During the very early 50's, a Camrose resident became ill. Now, during her lifetime, the elderly lady had always known farm life. Being alone and living in the town she still kept a cow and grew a medicinal herb and vegetable garden, as well.

During her illness Laura (my sister) decided to milk the cow, as well as take care of Mrs. Gallus's garden.

Settling down to milk "Bossy", Laura turned to see the cow watching her very intently and sniffing ... suddenly ... "swoosh!", the cow gave her a great switch across the neck with her tail. And, there was no way she would let down her milk.

"M' M' Muh!" grumbled Bossy. "You aren't my mistress!"

This was very aggravating indeed, because that cow must be milked.

Next morning Laura got an idea ... dressing up with Mrs. Gallus's working jacket and hat, she set out to try milking that cow once again. Settling herself onto the little milk stool dressed in these clothes, she knew Bossy had turned to look at her and sniff.

With a contented "M' M' Moo!" then an even gayer tone of "Mooooooo!" Bossy let her milk down with pleasure. Her beloved mistress was back (so she thought). Contentedly chewing her cud Bossy was at peace with her world.

Now, I realize those "fangled" milking machines bring in the dollars. But what darned dollars could ever replace the companionship which had developed. Between that old woman and her faithful cow?

Who says cows are dumb? It's indeed a truth "the cow who was boss!"

Commitment by consortium

Mr. J. W. Madill, general manager of Alberta Wheat Pool, announced January 11 a major commitment by the Prince Rupert Grain Terminal Consortium. He said that subject to satisfactory negotiations with Federal and Provincial governments and ratification by the Boards of member companies, the Consortium is committed to an immediate start on construction of a major high capacity grain terminal at Prince Rupert.

He said the necessary prerequisites include satisfactory financing, assurance of usage, adequate site development and overall economic feasibility. The issues of sufficient rail transportation to the West Coast and arrangements for switching of cars between railroads must also be resolved if this project is to become a reality.

Mr. Madill said he is confident that the many months of preparation and negotiation will reach a satisfactory conclusion in the next few weeks, and will result in an early start on construction of this major development to the benefit of all western grain producers.

The Consortium is made up of Alberta Wheat Pool, Cargill Grain Company Limited, Manitoba Pool Elevators, Pioneer Grain Company Limited, Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and United Grain Growers Limited.

FEATHERED FELONS

One March morning, as spring seemed about to begin, Albert went out to do some fishing at Fawcett Lake. Lo and behold ... he caught a great Jackfish! Was it ever a monster of a fish.

"Oh, well I'll lay it out for now!" he thought. "The sun is warm so I'll have to watch and not leave it long!" However he didn't have time to care about sun on that fish. Just then two giant Eagles spotted that Jack. Circling overhead, they soon landed on the ice next to that fish. That pair of Eagles ate and ate steadily until the complete skeleton of Jack lay there on that ice. (Not a bone out of place). Those eagles were so full, they just sat there awhile. When they did try to fly it took quite a few hops and flaps to get airborne again.

Sturgeon School District Briefs

Following are some of the highlights of the meeting of the Board of the Sturgeon School District #24 held on Wednesday, January 24:

The Board had some trouble understanding intent, when Trustee Porsild moved that space requirements at Gibbons be reviewed and action be taken so that sufficient space be provided for the 79-80 term and have the administration report back. The problem came with the interpretation of the word action.

Trustee Ward thought it should be "future action," while Keith Everitt thought it should read "necessary action."

Trustee Porsild's motion was defeated and it was left in the hands of the administration to bring a report back to the Board regarding space needs at Gibbons School. That report should be presented at the next meeting.

Trustee Ruth Wall brought up an emergency item regarding leaks at the Redwater School. The item was referred to the Building Committee, following a comment by Trustee Wall that the problem should have been fixed last September.

Trustee Jim Ward asked Chairman Lois Hole if the minutes could be more detailed so it would be easier for all the trustees to keep better informed. He also pointed out that the minutes of the meetings were very well done.

Mr. Sorochan and Mr. Cloutier appeared at the Board meeting to discuss bus service at their gate in Hewitt Estates (Block 1, Lot 4). In Mr. Sorochan's letter to the Board, he had incorrectly stated his location as Lot 1 Block 4. When the Transportation Committee looked at the location they reported that it was not suitable to turn a bus around and so the request was refused. On Wednesday, when the two gentlemen appeared in front of the Board, the location was corrected, and referred back to the Transportation Committee for their investigation.

The Sturgeon School Board approved the construction of tennis courts at the Sturgeon Heights School by the Sturgeon Heights Recreational Facilities Association provided there was no expense to the Board.

Trustee Joyce Porsild moved that the Board approve the borrowing of up to $3,000,000, as an establishment of a line of credit to cover expenditures for the year. The motion was carried, but Jim Ward proposed the idea that it might in the best interest of the Board to shop around for the best rates.

The LIFE 15 course presently taught at Sturgeon Composite High School has been well received by a large portion of the students attending there. The students were very interested in having the subsequent LIFE 25 course and a course on marriage added to the curriculum.

Trustee Porsild told the Board that the courses should be given priority now, while there is adequate room and staff. Keith Everitt was very impressed with the instructor, Mrs. Marjorie LaPlante.

Trustee Hood pointed out that perhaps the Board should look at providing new buildings rather than new courses.

It was decided by the Board that the Director of Instruction, Tony Taylor, will develop a feasibility plan for the development of LIFE 25 and Marriage 35 in Sturgeon Composite.

The Board found no reason to prevent students from travelling to Rome from March 24 to April 1. Trustee Ward commented that it was a "super" opportunity for children and would do them a "world of good."

Mr. Taylor, director of instruction, presented his report, with an interesting addition. He asked that the Board give him about two hours a month to present a special report on certain things he will investigate throughout the Sturgeon School Division.

His initial presentation, which included an impressive slide show, dealt with adults in the schools. Mr. Taylor commented that it was his intention to bring the classroom into the board room, so the trustees would be in closer contact with what was going on in the schools.

The general consensus of the Board was indeed favourable to reports of this kind.

Members of the Board met with Bon Accord Council to discuss future plans. Members of the Board agreed that the meeting was worthwhile, and are looking forward to the other meetings, which will involve other municipalities in the MD of Sturgeon. Of particular interest was a discussion which suggesting developers should contribute more to the town to which people from their developments send their children for schooling.

A report, that has been pending for over a year, has been brought forward and is of greater priority. The report is an investigation into the feasibility of the Board operating their own bus system.

Regional Recreation Council meeting highlights

The Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council held its first meeting of the new 1979 year on January 15. The highlights of that meeting were:

1. A new Regional Recreation Agreement was signed by all participating municipalities. Few changes were made from the original agreement other than the inclusion of Redwater. The term of this new agreement is up until the year ending 1981. Participating municipalities include the M.D. of Sturgeon #90, Town of Morinville, Town of Redwater, Town of Gibbons, Village of Bon Accord and the Village of Legal.

2. A Major Cultural/Recreation Facility Development Program Grant on behalf of the Village of Bon Accord was presented for approval. The project includes development of four ball diamonds, two soccer fields, two tennis courts and assorted landscaping. The total cost of the project is $59,445.51. ## Cardiff Column

By Florence Vranas

Ed and Ann McLaughlin and children Orla and Ronan have returned from a five week Christmas holiday to Londonderry, Ireland. They left Canada December 17 and arrived in Belfast 11 hours later, after only one stop at Heathrow Airport in London. The return on January 20 took 27 hours with eight stops due to the strikes in Britain.

There was snow for a white Christmas this year in Londonderry, the first in about 20 years. After Christmas a very bad storm with howling winds and temperatures of -14° dumped from 6 - 9 inches of snow in the area. Many homes had burst water and sewer pipes due to the cold.

The McLaughlins spent Christmas with Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade and New Year's with the McLaughlins. Welcome home Ed and Ann.

On Sunday, January 28 the 1st Morinville Girl Guides and their mothers enjoyed a pleasant few hours cross country skiing at Cardiff Park. This was a first for most and with the sun shining brightly it was a most enjoyable experience. The outing was organized by the Guides' Captain Marlene MacDonald.

A Correction: The care of houseplants two hour session from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. will be held at my home on March 1st not March 10 as was stated in the January 24 Gazette.

The Cardiff Community Club meeting for January was held at the home of Shirley Kegler on January 29 with 22 members present. It has been decided to hold a spring pot luck supper and dance on April 21. The next meeting will be held on February 26 at the home of Blanch Ricard.

Gibbons 4H Light Horse Club News

By Laura Visscher

Our past meeting was held on January 21 at 1 p.m. in the Gibbons Hall. There were several interesting topics discussed, among these topics were a Judging Clinic, which is to be held on March 11. Mrs. Gawcletz is looking into a stable, so times will be either 10 or 1 p.m.

A Horse Show is also planned for April 29, at the Mrs. Bev Hood residence at 9 a.m. This is to be a money raising venture. All youths in other 4H clubs in our area are invited to participate. Entries will be taken the morning of the show. An alternative date is set for May 6, in case of rain or other foul weather.

Rodeo tickets were also brought to our attention and any club member wishing to purchase tickets should contact Mrs. Bev Hood before February 4.

4H selections were explained to our club members, Susie Buchanan and Melonie Berg introduced Dr. Margaret Mitchell, who gave a very interesting and informative speech on our horses diet. I am sure that every individual that was present at the meeting benefitted greatly from this speech.

There was 27 out of our club's 30 members present at this meeting. A lovely lunch was served by Lynn Morin and Tracey Hood. Our next upcoming event will be public speaking in the Gibbons Hall, all members are encouraged to be at the hall by 12 sharp. See you there!

If you haven't been there since it moved to new premises (next to the Fire Hall on the corner of 49th Street and 50th Avenue) you are in for a pleasant surprise. The new facility is brighter and more spacious than the old one, and a number of new books have been added to the collection.

Do come in and browse. Membership cards are $1 for adults; 50¢ for children and senior citizens and are good for one year.

The library is open Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 1-3 p.m.

Air Cadets on Parade

On January 23 cadets had a welcome break in the usual routine when classes were cancelled and a sports night was enjoyed by all.

The squadron will be undertaking a trip to CFB Cold Lake next week. A tour of the base in full operation will be of interest to all cadets. They will be leaving Gibbons at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 6 and returning about 9 p.m. Wednesday night. McHardy, Lt. E. Mortimer, Lt. C. Fletcher and Mrs. Ruth Wall.

A mess dinner has been planned for the squadron on February 20. More news of this will be forthcoming at the next parents' meeting which will be held on February 13. There will not be a parade on February 6 because of the trip to Cold Lake.

Also coming up is the annual Cadet bean supper held in conjunction with the Bon Accord Winterama. Tentative date for this event will be the first weekend in March.

VANDALISM

Tiny Tots are the victims. For the last two weekends, the Bon Accord Community Centre has been entered unlawfully.

Two weeks ago, the special cupboards constructed by Tiny Tot parents were broken into and the lock on the Guide room door smashed. This past weekend the were broken open and this time the tape deck belonging to the children, was stolen.

The recreational facilities in the village belong to us all, and when any of them are vandalized or robbed, we are the victims. If anyone sees unusual or unwarranted activity around the hall or arena, please report it to your RCMP. In the meantime a good buy on a tape deck should be scrutinized carefully. ## PEEWEEES

The Sturgeon Minor Hockey Pee-wee tournament held in Bon Accord this past weekend saw our own pee-wees coming out the winners. The boys came up against some pretty stiff competition. Congratulations boys for putting on an excellent effort and giving the fans lots to cheer about. Thanks are extended to all the teams that participated in the tournament making it a very successful weekend. A BIG THANK YOU to all the men who refereed and to the arena staff for keeping the tournament running so smoothly. Submitted by Bill McDonald, Pee-wee coach.

This Friday, February 2, will feature school activities at the arena from 12 - 3:30 p.m. Again this year, everyone is asked to make donations of goodies that can be sold through the booth for a dime. Examples are: puffed wheat squares, cupcakes, etc. Country folk can send theirs to school with the youngsters, or they may be left in Pauline's porch or at the arena. February 3 will feature a Mite B tournament, starting at 9 a.m.

On February 4 at 2:30 p.m.

the Wildcat senior hockey team will host Gibbons at the Bon Accord arena. The Wildcats downed Alexander by a 4-2 score on January 28.

The bingo jackpot is now $205 in 55 numbers. Winners of free admissions to bingo on February 4 were Norman Robertson, S. Hewson and June Zendran. The bonanza was won by Laurie Crawford. Play bingo, Sundays at 7:30 p.m. in the Bon Accord Community Centre.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Owing to the fact that several questions have been raised in connection with the proposal to pave Roseglen subdivision, Bon Accord village council will hold an information meeting on Monday, February 5 at 8 p.m. in the Bon Accord Community Centre. All Roseglen residents and others interested are invited to attend.

The Springbrook Community League will meet at the home of Dave and Joyce Cosh, 5226 - 52 Avenue at 7:30 p.m.

A reminder -- Denim Sewing Typing 10 and Childrens Gymnastics are scheduled to get underway on February 6. For information call Pauline, 921-3625.

Anglican Church Women met at the home of Sadie Allen on January 24 with Lynda Bland as hostess. The executive for the coming year are: President, Rita Milligan; V.P. Lynda Bland; Sec. Lynda Ross and Treas. Ruth Cline.

Nagel Tours will present a Travlogue to include film and slides on Tuesday, February 13 at 1:45 p.m. at the Jewel Box. All seniors are invited to attend. A door prize of a free trip will be awarded.

Check the furnace for winter savings

Unfortunately, it seems that no sooner do you turn the furnace on than the fuel bills start pouring in. The best protection is to have the furnace checked out before this time of year.

It's better late than never, however, and there is a handy free booklet available that describes exactly what to check to get maximum performance from your furnace. It is called "The Billpayer's Guide to Furnace Servicing."

The booklet is available from "Heatline" a new federal government office set up to help consumers save energy by conserving heat. You can call them collect at 425-5272 or write to Suite 450, 9942 - 108 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 2J5.

"Heatline" can also advise you on the best type of insulation to use for various areas in your home. If you are just at the planning or thinking stage of a home insulation project, you may want to take advantage of their computerized home analysis service. Based on a questionnaire which you fill out, the service can pinpoint major areas of heat loss in your home, suggest modifications to correct the problem and provide an estimate of the fuel savings, possibly by following their recommendations.

Better late than never. Save energy and money, now.

THE INCREDIBLE SULK

No, it's not any one person.

It's that look.

The one you see on the faces of those advertisers and media buyers who are hopping mad at themselves.

How could they let it happen, you ask? Didn't they know Alberta's weeklies have a combined circulation exceeding 500,000?

You see, they've just realized they've missed reaching 40% of the consumers in Alberta. Why? Because they failed to advertise in Alberta's weekly newspapers.

Weren't they aware that in Alberta's No. 1 Market (the communities and rural areas served by weeklies) weekly newspapers achieve 85.9% penetration?

Why didn't these leading men and women take the time to get the latest facts? Who knows? We just hope you will.

Phone or write us for complete information. And avoid having to face The Incredible Sulk.

Don't turn off the lights of capitalism

Writing in the 1979 A.E. LePage real estate market Survey, Chairman and President Gordon C. Gray pleads for Canada's politicians and people to wake up to the facts that the "giveaway" socialistic form of government is not the answer to correct Canada's economic woes and that government should change it's thinking and laws regarding foreign investment.

"We have ample evidence that problems such as enormous government spending, indexed civil servant pensions, massive bureaucratic build-up, huge give-away welfare programs are bad for our country and in fact suicidal to our way of life. There's nothing magical in any of this. It's really grade one stuff," Gray stated.

Mr. Gray has presented a plea for change in previous A.E. LePage market Survey articles and he feels that some reversal in government thinking is taking place. He sees some signs of turning back to the free market system but describes this as being very slow and in need of further help.

"We surely understand by now that without profits resulting in savings which are the basic source of all pools of capital, we cannot have the new investment that is needed in construction, plant and equipment. In turn, these factors are the creators of our jobs and our prosperity. These factors shouldn't be too difficult to comprehend."

CANADA'S FOREIGN INVESTMENT DILEMMA

One of the ways Gray sees these profits increasing is in reducing government intervention and changing laws regarding foreign investment and what he calls "the obvious contradiction in thinking that exists."

On the one hand, we have decried foreign investment in Canada on the grounds of exploitation of our resources and our people. But when it comes to Canadians investing beyond our borders, as for example the substantial commitments by our real estate companies in the United States, the contradiction in our thinking begins. This outflow of capital is said to be bad for Canada, and the Canadians responsible are almost looked upon as traitors - a complete reversal in our prior assumptions.

Gray urged the need for education regarding this situation. "Our governments owe it to the Canadian people to advertise the real facts and educate the population to understand them-unpopular though the process may be. And they should have the fortitude to follow through with the necessary corrective actions. Let's hope we can come to our senses before the lights go out," he concluded.

Solar Olympics coming March 3

The Solar Energy Society, Northern Alberta Chapter, will sponsor the second annual Solar Olympics on March 3, 1979 at 14605 - 118 Avenue, headquarters of the Solar and Wind Energy Research Program.

The purpose of these Olympics is mainly educational but will have competitive overtones. Prizes will be given for novel ideas, standard ideas with a new twist or old ideas well carried out.

It will be held in early March to show that solar energy can be collected in a winter month, not just during Alberta's sunny summer. For the greater comfort of those manning exhibits and looking at displays, the event will be held late in the season.

For the student and teacher we will provide a place to exhibit school made devices to generate ideas for other schools and teachers. Other people are also welcome to exhibit working or non-working models for education.

For the homeowner the event will feature exhibit practical devices associated with solar heating. They may be commercial or homemade by the amateur. Here too we will have a competition for prizes.

For the professional or enthusiast a forum for discussion and an opportunity to display ideas and hardware. Those to whom solar energy is just a phrase in the news these days will find this an eye-opening, thought provoking window on the future.

Builders, private or commercial are invited to display drawings, photographs and descriptive material on their finished products. These too will be judged competitively. The judges may wish to base a final judgement in this category on an additional site visit for further information, but builders and owners will have the final say on whether the general public will be admitted to these sites.

In all these areas individuals or groups are welcome to participate as exhibitors in our Solar Winter Olympics. Only a good response can make them the great success desired.

Inquiries regarding possible entries should be directed to the Solar Energy Office: 432-2834.

Women taught self-defence tactics

Self Defence for Women, offered by Grant MacEwan Community College, is a relevant course for women today and the problems they may encounter.

The four separate areas of the course; transactional analysis, assertion, physical fitness and self-defence attempt to prepare women for a variety of "real life" situations.

From dealing with a potential rape situation to an over-aggressive individual at a party, women are encouraged to not only improve their physical condition but increase their awareness and self confidence.

Instructor Doug Grimes has taught the course for 10 years in the United States and Canada. It is of his own design, based on his psychology background and combat instruction in the United States Army.

Duration of the course is three hours per week for 10 weeks. Beginning the week of January 29, 1979, the course is offered Wednesday afternoons at the Mill Woods Campus (1 - 4 p.m.), and Thursday evenings at the Cromdale Campus (7 - 10 p.m.).

Fee is $50.00.

For further information contact Cheryl Nattrass, Cromdale Campus, 474-8521.

SUBSCRIBERS !!

The distribution of our newspaper is handled in three ways: on newsstands, through the mail, and by our team of carriers.

The vast majority of our readers prefer receiving the Gazette from our carriers, and it is their job to ensure that you get the Gazette as early as possible every Wednesday, whatever the weather.

Lately, the most difficult part of the carriers job has been collecting from customers. People, now are more on the go, and therefore more difficult to catch at home.

We shouldn't overlook the problems caused by holidays and moving. It is difficult to remember money owed to a carrier.

For greater convenience to all, we are hoping that our readers will take this opportunity to subscribe to the Gazette on a yearly basis.

You won't have to worry about having change on hand, or the carrier bothering you at inopportune moments. The carrier will save time working his or her route, therefore affording them more time with their friends, family and personal activities. The carrier will still receive full creditation for the delivery. If you are moving or taking holidays, just give us a call, and the necessary adjustments will be made (subscription extension, transfer, etc.).

If you move away, you can keep up on local news through the mail by having your paper follow you to your new address.

Simply fill in the coupon below and mail it to the Gazette, or drop by our office at 31 Perron Street.

Thank You
From all of us at the Gazette

How's your financial footing??

By Pat Doerksen

Box 1020 - Morinville
Phone 939-4351

The pay cheque has come ... the bills have been paid ... and still, the cheque book doesn't balance out. Maybe it is time to look at your skills as a money manager. See how you rate by taking this simple test.

Test Your Money Management Skills: Be honest with yourself and answer every question with either a YES or NO.

1. Do you know how much it costs you to live each month (to the nearest $10)?
2. Do you normally have enough money to handle these expenses?
3. Can you cover these costs without using credit?
4. Do you always have sufficient funds for the cheques you write?
5. Do you know exactly how much your monthly credit payments amount to?
6. Do you know how much money you have in the bank (to the nearest $10)?
7. Do you pay charge card statements in full each month?
8. Do you have a fund for unexpected emergencies?
9. Do you save well in advance for replacement of items such as vehicles and appliances?
10. Do you have a savings plan for your long term financial goals?

Give yourself one point for each 'YES' answer, then total your score. How do you measure up?

9 - 10 Excellent
7 - 8 Good
5 - 6 Fair
3 - 4 Poor
0 - 2 Danger
Satisfied with your score? If not, it is time for action. It's a good idea to take a hard look at your financial goals because very few people have incomes large enough to make their dreams come true. You're going to have to live on what you earn. But, regardless of your present income and financial situation, you still have a choice and the chance to plan for a better future. It's really up to you.

Having done this test you should have a general idea of how you rate as a money manager. If you want to see more of your financial picture, you can work out a financial plan. A helpful booklet, "Before You Go Under: A Self-Help Financial Management Guide," may be obtained from: Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs, Box 1616, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 2N9. If you think you have more to learn about money management, some assistance is available from the Family Financial Counselling Service of the Edmonton Office of Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs.

Community Services Report

Submitted by the Department

OPENINGS IN CLASSES

It's not too late to register for several of the classes offered by Community Services. Anyone interested can find descriptions of most of the courses and workshops in the program brochure which was distributed to all households.

To register, send name, address and phone number, along with name of course and appropriate fee (see brochure) to City Hall, 30 Sir Winston Churchill Avenue, St. Albert, T8N 3A3 or call at the Community Services office, 20 Muir Drive. If further information is required phone the office at 459-6601.

Children can still be registered in the model aircraft class and openings remain in the following visual arts classes for adults: macrame, loom weaving, hand-built pottery, "Bright and Beautiful" (for moms with or without tots), embroidery, batik, spinning and dyeing, flower-arranging, copper enamelling and drawing.

The 10-week course in macrame being held in Glaewyn Centre (Gervais Road and Goodridge Drive) on Mondays from 7 - 10 p.m. offers choice. Participants can work on a different project each week or receive help from instructor Margaret Plain on more advanced projects.

Those interested in oil painting or watercolours would find the skills taught by Jackie Graff in the drawing class a necessary step in developing their artistic skills.

There are also openings in the Copper Enamelling Workshop scheduled in the Arts Centre on Saturday and Sunday, February 17 and 18 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. each day. This is an exciting craft entitling the cutting and shaping of copper sheets into hollow or flat forms, the characteristic brilliant colors being achieved by firing powdered enamels sprinkled on the copper surface in special kilns.

Openings are still available in the "Directing a Play" course conducted by Ken Graham and "Opera Awareness."

Other performing arts classes which have openings are: creative puppetry (for children) and for all ages, music theory, guitar and all forms of dancing (except disco).
